Silas) Deane = of the 3 American commissioners Feb. 6, 1778 in Paris for signing of treaty bet France & America Benj. Franklin + Arthur Lee were the other 2 + Dr. Edward Bancroft sec. of the commission.)

Silas Deane - graduated from Yale College - became tutor of Edward Bancroft at Hartford Conn
In July of 1776, the merchant from Conn., Silas Deane, arrived in Paris with orders from Congress to arrange for French assistance in the form of munitions + supplies.
He had with him Franklin's instructions to contact Dr. Bancroft in London.
Franklin apparently realized that Deane was not an experienced diplomat + would need assistance in his mission

Bancroft kept Deane supplied with information from London + helped him w/ his correspondence, + Deane app't'd him his secretary + pd. him w/ funds made available by Congress.
Bancroft, a strong character w/ charm + personality, found he could easily influence the weaker, inexperienced Deane + soon had him deeply involved in stock speculation + war profiteering, for Deane was at least as interested in money as he was in patriotism. Bancroft was also very fond of money, but he had another + much more sinister reason for involving Silas Deane in financial manipulations (which eventually got Silas in trouble with Congress). Under the cover name of Edward Edwards Bancroft was already in the employ of the Br. Sec. Service + by involving Deane he thus recruited a valuable spy.

Arthur Lee became aware of Dr. Bancroft's duplicity + denounced him to Franklin who indignantly defended Bancroft who cont'd. as
sec. + served as such on the peace mission which negotiated the Treaty of Paris in 1783, ending Rev. War.

Silas Deane was recalled by Congress in 1778 because of allegations of embezzlement made by Lee. He ret'd. to France in 1780 to try to straighten out his confused acct's. + got himself into further difficulties by writing letters advocating peace without Amer. independence. Deane was denounced as a traitor + lived his final yrs in embittered exile. In 1779 he made plans to return home to restore his good name & rebuild his fortune, but d. on shipboard just outside Deal, England. There are indications that Silas Deane was murdered by his "friend" Bancroft to insure that his lips would be sealed forever.

Dr. Edward Bancroft was a triple agent - spying not only for America & Great Britain but also for France, whose cunning, duplicity & villainy did not become fully known until 1887 when the scholar Benj. F. Stevens began publishing Bancroft's correspondence in facsimile. Bancroft was surely the most incredible double-dealer in Amer. History. If compared to Benedict Arnold - Arnold comes out a bungling amateur.

"The Universal Standard Encyclopedia" - Volume 7 - 1954
Silas Deane - (1737-89) b. Groton, Conn.
Elected to Colonial legislature of Conn. in 1772
" " Continental Congress in 1774 serving until Congress sent him to France in 1776; shortly before Benj. Franklin & Arthur Lee were sent to France
& all 3 were accredited as commissioners.
Deane was largely resp. for recruiting of foreign volunteers as Lafayette, deKalb & Pulaski & for sending of supplies, which proved invaluable at the Battle of Saratoga (1777)

His memory was vindicated by the U.S. Congress in 1842 through a resolution which awarded $37,000 to his heirs in payment of a claim.

THE FIRST WIFE OF SHADRACH WILBORE
AND CHILDREN OF WALTER DEANE OF TAUNTON MA

By David Kendall Martin, M.A.

The identity of the first wife of Shadrach Wilbore of Taunton MA has long been hazy. Enough evidence is available to show that she was Mary Deane, the daughter of Walter Deane of Taunton; but, as far as I can determine, that evidence has not been presented in print. For example, Arthur D. Dean's Genealogy of the Dean Family (1903), hereafter Dean Gen., makes no mention of Mary, and Benjamin Franklin Wilbour's accounts of Shadrach simply call her Mary Dean, offering neither documentation nor parentage (John R. Wilbor and Benjamin F. Wilbour, The Wildbores in America [vol. 1, revised 2nd ed., Boston 1933], hereafter Wildbores, pp. 31-4, 36; NEHGR 113:101).

Shadrach[2] Wilbore was baptized at Sible Hedingham, co. Essex, England on 6 Sept. 1631, a son of Samuel[1] and Ann (Smith) Wilbore (NEHGR 112:108-18; 113:100-1). Samuel arrived in Boston with his family in 1633, removed to Portsmouth RI in 1637, subsequently returned to Boston in 1645, was made a Freeman of Portsmouth in 1655, yet made his will in Taunton on 30 April 1656, proved on 6 Nov. 1656, leaving to his son Shadrach the house and land in Taunton where Samuel dwelt (John O. Austin, Genealogical Dictionary of RI... [Albany 1887, rpt. Baltimore 1969], hereafter Austin, pp. 227-8; NEHGR above; MD 14:150-51).

Shadrach Wilbore served for nearly 33 years as town clerk of Taunton. In 1687, during the Andros regime, he was imprisoned in Boston for a time for "scandalous, factious and seditious writing" (Austin p. 228; James Savage, A Genealogical Dictionary of the First Settlers in New England..., 4 vols. [Boston 1860-62, rpt. Baltimore 1965], hereafter Savage, 4:545; George D. Langdon, Jr., Pilgrim Colony, a History of New Plymouth [Yale 1966] p. 215).

That Shadrach's first wife's name was Mary is shown in a deed of 6 June 1670 (not recorded until 22 Apr. 1703) in which Shadrach Wilbore of Taunton and wife Mary (who made her mark) transferred to Robert Sanderson of Boston, eight acres of land which had been given to Shadrach in his father Samuel's will (Bristol Co. LR 4:110). Mary, wife of Shadrach Wilbore, died at Taunton on 27 March 1691 (Taunton VR 3:220). They had married probably about 1658, since their first recorded child, Mary, was born in 1659 (Taunton VR 1:454).

On 13 Sept. 1692 Shadrach married second at Taunton "Hannah Paine of Brantry" [Braintree MA] (Taunton VR 2:521). She was Hannah Bass, daughter of Dea. Samuel and Anne (Savil) Bass of Braintree, who had married in Braintree on 15 of 9 mo. [Nov.] 1651 Stephen, son of Moses Paine (Brain-tree TR p. 629; TAG 36:138; NEHGR 107:218-20). Stephen Paine died at Braintree on 29 July 1691 (Braintree TR p. 659; Savage 3:335). The identity of Shadrach's second wife is confirmed by the will of Peter Town of Cambridge MA, dated 28 May 1705. Peter had married in Braintree on 8 April 1697 Elizabeth Paine, a daughter of Stephen and Hannah (Bass) Paine, and in his will mentions his wife's mother, Hannah Wilbore (Braintree TR p. 740; TAG 36:138). Shadrach died at Taunton between 12 Sept. 1696 (date of his will) and 23 Feb. 1697/8 (inventory taken). The will was proved on 1 March 1697/8, with sons Joseph and Shadrach Jr. executors. It mentions his wife Hannah, and her [unnamed] children in Braintree; the [unnamed] wife and child of his son Samuel deceased; sons John, Eliezer, and Benjamin; daughters Sarah wife of Nathaniel Hoar, and Rebecca wife of Abraham Hathaway; grandson Samuel Wilbore; and land given to son John by his uncle Joseph (Austin p. 228; Bristol Co. PR 1:213, 215).

Children (WILBORE) b. Taunton to Shadrach (VR 1:451-5):

i MARY^{3} b. 11 Nov. 1659; d. 19 June 1674 (VR 3:220).
ii SARAH b. 18 March 1661[/2?].
iii SAMUEL b. 1 Apr. 1663; d. 16 Dec. 1695 (VR 3:220).
iv REBECCA b. 13 Jan. 1664[/5].
v HANNAH b. 24 Feb. 1667; d. 30 Dec. 1675 (VR 3:219). vi JOSEPH b. 27 July 1670.
vii SHADRACH b. 5 Sept. 1672.
viii JOHN b. 2 March 1674/5; d. bet. 8 Apr. & 11 July 1718 (see mention of his will below).
ix ELIEZER b. 1 July 1677.
x BENJAMIN b. 23 July 1683.

In the town records the children are uniformly given as born to Shadrach, with no mention of the mother. Because of his care to record the deaths of three of his children, after he became town clerk in March 1664/5, we may reasonably assume that he would similarly have recorded the death of his wife, had it occurred. Because none is indicated, it is safe to assume that Mary was the mother of his children from Hannah on, and that she was the wife who died in 1691. We do not have proof positive that Mary was the mother of his first four children -- he might conceivably have had a wife prior to Mary, who died before he became clerk.

A clue to the maiden name of Shadrach's first wife, Mary, is offered in the will of their son, John Wilbore, who married in Taunton on 20 Apr. 1703 Alice Pitts, daughter of Peter and Mary (Andrews) Pitts (Taunton VR 1:453; 2:518; Wildbores p. 42). In his will, dated 8 Apr. 1718 and proved 11 July 1718, John Wilbore of Taunton appointed his brother Benjamin Wilbore and "cousin Israel Deane" as executors (Bristol Co. PR 3:444; no papers survive).

This Israel Deane was born in Taunton on 2 Feb. 1685/6, a son of Benjamin and Sarah (Williams) Deane (Taunton VR

1:128; 2:139), and a grandson of Walter Deane of Taunton. "Lt." Israel Deane died in Taunton on 23 March 1760 in his 76th year (VR 3:66). He had married in Taunton on 19 Jan. 1709/10 Ruth Jones, who died there "widow of Lt. Israel Dean" on 18 (or 20) Apr. 1769 in her 80th year (Taunton VR 2:145; 3:70).

In a search for the relationship covered by the word "cousin" in John's will, a connection by marriage between John Wilbore and Israel Deane through Ruth Jones, however unlikely, can be ruled out only when she is identified. However, no connection can be established through John Wilbore's wife, Alice Pitts, whose family is identified (Julia Bumpus Berndt and Frances Davis McTeer, Some Descendants of Peter Pitts of Taunton MA [1979]); or through Israel's mother, Sarah Williams, whose family also is known (George G. and Geoffrey Gilbert, Gilberts of New England part 1 [1959]; TAG 9:136; 27:9; NEHGR 111:234-8; NGSQ 69:40-1); nor is there a Wilbore connection in Israel's background. This leaves, as most likely, a Deane relationship to be established between John's mother and Israel's father.

Because Mary, the mother of John Wilbore, was married about 1658, she was born probably by 1640. As a Deane, this would make her a daughter in one of the two early Deane families in Taunton. The Taunton Deanes were generated by the brothers John Deane and Walter Deane, sons of William Deane of South Chard, co. Somerset, England (NEHGR 3:375-87; 51:432-4). John and Walter Deane came first to Boston, and spent about a year in Dorchester before moving to Taunton (NEHGR 3:379-84). They were admitted freemen on 4 Dec. 1638 (Plymouth Colony Rec. 1:105), and were among the first purchasers of Taunton in 1639, taking "up their farms on the west bank of the river, about one mile from the center of the present village" (Rev. S. Deane mss. papers, in Dean Gen.). John and Walter are included in a list of men of Taunton between 16 and 60, available in 1643 for military duty; and both appear in the list of inhabitants on 28 Dec. 1659, prepared in connection with a division of newly acquired land (Francis Baylies, An Historical Memoir of the Colony of New Plymouth 2[part II]:267, 270-1). John Deane is listed with eight heads, that is a family consisting of himself, wife and presumably the six children named in his will; Walter is listed also with eight heads, indicating himself, wife and presumably six children. In the same list, Shadrach Wilbore is included with three heads.

John[1] was born about 1600 and died in Taunton MA between 25 April and 7 June 1660 (date and probation of his will). In his will he was "of Taunton...aged sixty yeares or therabouts," and named wife Alice; six children: John, Thomas, Israel, Isaac, Nathaniel, and Elizabeth; and brother Walter Deane (MD 17:158-9). Settlement of the estate of widow Alice, who died intestate, was made 22 Oct. 1677 on John, Thomas and Isaac Dean, and Josiah Edson and wife Elizabeth (Plymouth Colony PR 3:2:96-7). Very clearly then, Mary, the wife of Shadrach Wilbore, born by 1640, is not a member of this family.

Children (DEANE) b. to John and Alice (m. dates and some d. in Taunton VR):

i JOHN^2 b. ca. 1640; d. 1717 aged 77; m. 1663 SARAH EDSON.
ii THOMAS d. by 1697 (will proved); m. 1669 KATHARINE STEVENS.
iii ISRAEL d. unm. 1677 (will dated and sworn, Plymouth Colony PR 3:2:96).
iv ISAAC d. by 1710 (will proved); m. 1678 HANNAH LEONARD.
v NATHANIEL d.s.p. bet. 25 Apr. 1660 and 22 Oct. 1677 (father's will and mother's estate above).
vi ELIZABETH b. ca. 1650; d. 1734 ae 84; m. JOSIAH EDSON.

WALTER^1 DEANE was baptized at Chard on 13 May 1612. Walter Deane's wife was ELEANOR STRONG, who was born ca. 1613, posthumous daughter of John Strong of Chard (Mary Lovering Holman, Stevens-Miller Ancestry [1948] 1:348-9; Nora E. Snow, The Snow-Estes Ancestry [1939]; not Eleanor Cogan as indicated by Torrey's Marriages [see NEHGR 110:267]). Apparent confirmation that she was a Strong is found in a 1691 deed in which Walter Deane of Taunton, tanner, as attorney for "my brother" [evidently brother-in-law] John Strong Sr. former proprietor of Taunton, now living in Northampton, Hampshire Co. [MA], sold his rights to land in Taunton (Bristol Co. LR 1:152; 3:390; 7:556). (However, this expressed relationship has also been interpreted to indicate that Eleanor was a Cogan [NEHGR 110:267].)

In the absence of any death or probate record in Bristol Co. for either Walter or Eleanor Deane, we must be satisfied with the information that they are last known to be alive in Taunton on 25 Aug. 1693, when they sold land there to Isaac Deane; witnesses were John Deane, Joseph Deane, and Shadrach Wilbore Sr. In April 1712 the two Deane witnesses attested that they saw the deed signed, and so Walter and his wife were dead by then (Bristol Co. LR 7:350).

The children of Walter have never all been identified. Bristol County deeds name eldest son Ezra, son Joseph, and son-in-law Bartholomew Tipping (accounting for one unnamed daughter) (TAG 23:174-7; Bristol Co. LR 1:62; 6:327; 10:209). Savage (2:31) adds a son Benjamin, and suggests there were others. Benjamin proved himself to be a son by naming "my brother Ezra Dean" in his own will of 1722/3 (Bristol Co. PR 5:62, 71-3). Also on 3 Dec. 1702 Benjamin Dean of Taunton sold land there which formerly belonged to Walter Dean deceased, and was bounded by land of Ezra Dean, but tantalizingly did not state how he had acquired the land (Bristol Co. LR 7:340). Good evidence has been provided that James Deane of Stonington CT, ancestor of the celebrated Revolutionary patriot, Silas Deane, was also a son (Savage 2:31; Dean Gen.). We thus have positive identification of five of the purported six children of Walter Deane living at home in 1659. On first thought, the sixth might have been a daughter Mary who married Shadrach Wilbore. If so, her son John Wilbore would be a first cousin of Israel Deane, son of her brother Benjamin.

There is little ammunition for an onomastic argument, amounting only to the fact that Shadrach and Mary named a son Benjamin, which might have been for Mary's brother, assuming that her father was Walter. A further hint at supporting evidence is found in the deed indicated above in which Walter Deane of Taunton on 8 July 1686 gave to son-in-law Bartholomew Tipping land in Taunton bounded to the northeast by land of Shadrach Wilbore; and on 11 May 1688 Bartholomew Tipping assigned his right to this land to Samuel Blacke of Taunton, one witness being Shadrach Wilbore (Bristol Co. LR 10:209; TAG 23:175-6). Also Shadrach witnessed the last known deed of Walter in 1693 (as indicated earlier).

The December 1659 list of Taunton proprietors, however, includes Shadrach Wilbore with three heads: himself, his wife, and their daughter Mary, who was born in 1659. Thus if Shadrach's wife was Mary Deane, she would not have been living with her father in 1659. We must then conclude that Walter and Eleanor (Strong) Deane had, in addition to the six children enumerated at home in 1659, another child: Mary, probably the oldest, born ca. 1638. This would place the marriage of Walter and Eleanor about 1637, when Walter was 25 and Eleanor would have been about 24. They could well have been married at Dorchester MA, where both are believed to have lived before removing to Taunton, although no record of such marriage is found in the vital records in Dorchester. Since their eldest son, Ezra, did not marry until 1678, it is likely their older children were girls, indicating that the still unidentified sixth child, at home in 1659, was probably a daughter (unless he was a boy who died unmarried).

Taunton records show that a Mary Deane married on 17 Feb. 1685/6 Henry^3 Andrews, the son of Henry^2 and Mary (Wadsworth) Andrews, who was born ca. 1664 (Taunton VR 2:21; NEHGR 51:455-6; 52:17). She evidently died shortly, leaving a daughter, Yet Mercy Andrews, and Henry married (2) in Taunton on 4 July 1688 Mary Williams, daughter of Samuel and Mary (Gilbert) Williams (Taunton VR 2:21; NEHGR above). Mary Deane, Henry's first wife, has been called a daughter of Walter Deane, with no evidence presented (Genealogy of the Deane Family: Descendants of Walter Deane, compiled by Walter Dean [Dedham MA 1924], typescript, pp. 1, 3; Notes on Walter Deane and the First Five Generations of His Descendants, collected and compiled by Josiah Hayden Drummond of Portland ME, typescript copy by Elizabeth Deane Ramsey, 1903, pp. 1, 6; both at the Old Colony Hist. Soc. in Taunton). However, if she were a daughter of Eleanor (Strong) Deane who was born ca. 1613, she was probably born before 1658, in which case she would have been 28 or older when she married an appreciably younger Henry Andrews.

It seems more likely that Henry's first wife was not so old. A first thought was that she might be an unrecorded daughter of John^{2} Deane Jr. (who was born in Taunton ca. 1640) and his wife Sarah Edson, who were married on 7 Nov. 1663, and whose first recorded child, Samuel, was born in 35 Taunton on 24 Jan. 1666 [prob. 1666/7] (E. Bridgewater VR p. 194; Taunton VR 1:132; 2:146). But this John Deane "Sr. of Taunton" left a will, dated 27 Nov. 1711, codicils dated 6 Jan. 1714/5 and 12 May 1716, naming wife Sarah and his eight children including daughter Mary Williams, wife of Seth Williams; there is no date of probate of this will, but inventory of his estate dated 8 March 1716/7 says he died 18 Feb. 1716/7 (Bristol Co. PR file "John Dean 1716" and 3:340, 344 [the record book shows the will as recorded on an impossible 3 July 1716])(also NEHGR 3:386). John died in Taunton on 18 Feb. 1717 ae 77, and Mary, wife of Hon. Seth Williams Esq., died there on 8 June 1746 in 66th year (VR 3:67, 226). Deacon Samuel Dean of Taunton was on 29 Oct. 1723 appointed administrator of the estate of Mrs. Sarah Dean late of Taunton deceased. He was called her son when swearing to the inventory; no other records are found for her estate (Bristol Co. PR 4:224, 254).

We have so far searched in vain for a Mary Deane to provide a wife for Henry Andrews. A remote possibility is that she might have been a widow of Nathaniel^{2} Deane, son of John Sr., who died without issue between 1660 and 1677, for whom no record of a wife has yet been found. Other possibilities are that she could have been a daughter of Ezra^{2} Deane (Walter^{1}) by an unknown first wife, or of Isaac^{2} Deane or Thomas^{2} Deane (John^{1}) in the same manner. To be married in 1686, this Mary could easily have been born ca. 1666. If Ezra Deane were born between 1641 and 1646, there is no reason why he could not have been her father. The same is true for Isaac and Thomas. Mary (Deane) Andrews had died by 1688. Ezra Deane of Taunton died between 28 Oct. 1727 and 15 Feb. 1731/2 (Bristol Co. PR 7:285-8). While he did not mention a daughter Mary in his will, she had long been dead, so there was no real reason why he should. The same is true for Isaac Deane of Taunton whose will was proved on 11 Apr. 1710, and for Thomas Deane of Taunton whose will was proved on 5 July 1697 (Bristol Co. PR 2:281; 1:183-6). Thus, while we cannot identify the parents of Mary Deane, the wife of Henry Andrews, it is enough for our purposes here to show that there are other possibilities than that she was a daughter of Walter^{1} Deane.

Proposed children (DEANE) of Walter and Eleanor:

i MARY b. prob. Taunton say 1638; d. Taunton 27 March 1691; m. ca. 1658 SHADRACH WILBORE.
ii child b. say 1641; living in 1659 (head count); d.s.p.

[The preceding will of William Deane of Southchard was sent to me about twenty years ago by William Dean, Esq., of London. He thought there were strong reasons for believing that the testator was the father of John and Walter Deane who settled at Taunton in New England, in which opinion I concur. The late Charles Deane, LL.D., of Cambridge, Mass., was strongly of this opinion, and, with my consent, had a few copies of this will printed at the University Press, for private distribution.

Rev. Samuel Deane of Scituate, author of the History of Scituate, Mass., left among his manuscripts this memorandum about the Taunton settlers:

"John Deane came into Plymouth colony with his brother Walter A.D. 1638. They took the freeman's oath the same year and settled at Cohannet now Taunton. They came from the town of Chard, near Taunton in Somersetshire, England. They arrived at Boston first, stopped a year or nearly at Dorchester, and then came with others to Taunton."

James^2 Dean

"At a public town meeting Legally warned and held on February the 28th,1676

"For encouragement of James Dean in order to his settlement in our town, Sundry inhabitants do engage themselves to pay unto the said Dean a certain sum, which, for and in consideration the said Dean promiseth to repay all such persons in smithery work as each person shall have occasion for, and that these presents shall reciprocally be binding each to the other.

"The first, Mr. Stanton Sen. promiseth five pounds, Mr. Amos Richardson & his son Stephen five pounds, Nehemiah Palmer twenty shillings, Nathaniel Miner twenty shillings, Joseph Miner twenty shillings, Goodman Reynolds and his son Thomas four shillings, Thomas Bell twenty shillings, Henry Stephens twenty shillings, Edmund Fanning twenty shillings, Joshua Holmes twenty shillings, Ezekial Main twenty shillings, Samuel Minor twenty shillings, Adam Gallup twenty shillings, Mr. James Noyes ten shillings, Goodman Searles twenty shillings.

"The sum above mentioned is to be payed to James Dean at some place in Stonington where he may or shall dwell, in either pork, butter or wheat at or before the last of November next ensuing after the date hereof; the species mentioned are to be paid at price current.

"The same day was granted to James Dean twenty-four acres of upland which was formerly reserved by the town for the accomodation of a smith, which grant is to him and his heirs or assigns, provided he doth the towns iron work for and during the full term of three years, but if the said Dean shall decease in our town within the terms, then the said grant shall properly appertain to the heirs of the said Dean without molestation by or from the town, and this grant obligeth no further, but that for the future each person payeth honestly for what work they have done."

"At a Town meeting legally warned, Sept. 6, 1677, it was voted for the smith's encouragement, Mr. Richardson promiseth to cart the thatch to cover his house, and to allow him ten days work more.

"Adam Gallup, Thomas Edwards and Thomas Fanning promiseth to cut the thatch for his house.

"Lieutenant Mason and Gershom Palmer each of them one day's work in carting.

"Mr. Wheeler promiseth him two hundred of laths.

"At the same day James Dean had granted him one hundred acres of land where he can find it upon the commons, provided it intrench not upon any former grant i. e.: all former grants being first settled.

"The selectmen vide."

"At a legal town meeting held June 1st, 1682, it was passed by vote that James Dean hath performed his condition made with the town.

"February the 26th, 1676."

The two twenty-four acre lots, or double lots, as they were sometimes called, set apart and designed for the use of a blacksmith, were situated a little way easterly of the quarry ledge at Quiambaug. Here he erected his home and shop, and commenced business in 1676; subsequently he rec'd. other grants of land and became a prominent man in the affairs of the town.

Eastern National PARK & MONUMENT ASSOCIATION

F. L. Rath, Jr., Executive Secretary   P.O Box 671, Cooperstown, N.Y. 13326   Telephone 607/547-8511

Memorandum   October 12, 1983

To: The Membership

From: F. L. Rath, Jr.

Earlier this year the EN board faced up to the need to reorganize its manner of operation. Specifically, it reviewed the conflict of interest issue which National Park Service said confronted its employees active in the decision-making processes of cooperating associations. There was set in motion a train of events in which the membership took an active part in the scheduled election and approval of a revision of the Articles of Incorporation.

When the votes were counted on September 1, Chet Brooks had been elected and Herb Kahler and Jim Haskett were re-elected. Two weeks later the Virginia Corporation Commission approved the articles. As a result, we have been able to move forward with the necessary revisions of the bylaws, to accommodate the change in board representation and to strengthen them in other ways so as to facilitate operations and procedures. Processed through the executive committee, the bylaws were approved unanimously by the board on October 5-6 in Washington.

Since the recent NPS policy position has made it impossible for employees to serve on the board, Ed Bearss, Jim Haskett, and Cynthia Kryston ended their membership on the board effective September 30. The board formally paid tribute to their contributions to EN and appointed them to membership on the new Advisory Committee that will work with the EN executive committee and board to assure close liaison between NPS and EN. Bob Deskins and Hobie Cawood have also been named to the Advisory Committee. Replacements for Bearss, Haskett, and Kryston were elected by the board to the unexpired terms at a special meeting. Chosen to fill the vacancies as well as to replace Jim Coleman, who resigned earlier this year, were F. Ross Holland, former NPS Associate Director for Cultural Resource Management and now Director of Restoration and Preservation, Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation, Inc., Dr. James Olson, president of the University of Missouri, Dr. William T. Alderson, director of the Margaret Woodbury Strong Museum, Rochester, NY, and Barry Tindall, Legislative Affairs, National Recreation and Parks Association.

Copy, Essex County Quarterly Court Files, vol. 35, leaf 46.

The declaration made to the court at Ipswich, Mar. 30, 1680, by Nath. Saltonstall and William White, in prosecution of the request of James Davis, sr., of Haverhill in his will, which was urged to be attended unto, and in obedience to the desire of the court at Salisbury, that we having considered their several writings and pleas, now give in our decision about the estate leaving the whole to this court's determination: that James Davis the appointed executor and now administrator to his father's estate, do according to the clauses hereafter mentioned attend to the will, we not finding sufficient ground to take off from any legacies to give to him, for though he is not put in as others with a particular legacie, yet we find that what hath been in his hands to manage will be sufficient to satisfy him for his claim; the meadow in Samuel Davis' hand and upland adjoining to the 30 acres given Ephraim Davis by deed and will, we judge ought to be settled in law upon the administrator and James Davis, sr., deceased, having formerly as agent, by letter from his son John Davis, made sale of his land which he left at Haverhill upon his removal to Pascataqua about twenty years since, which John seems now to deny because the order to his father cannot be found, and threatenings are made thereupon of the administrator, therefore we judge that the administrator shall have and keep all that was given by will to John Davis and his children for restitution of intended damage, unless said John and his wife give a legal discharge to James from any molestation about the father's estate; also that the debts of any of the rest of the children of James Davis may present for his care etc. be cancelled and not recoverable of the administrator, otherwise their said debts ought to be deducted out of the legacies given to the other brethren and sisters or relations. The court ordered this return to be accepted and allowed, unless any appear at the next court to show cause to alter the same.

"prob. from Southwark; Miller" The Planters of the Commonwealth Chas. Edw. Banks - 1930

Stephen was a "pilgrim" or "Old Comer" (name given to those men who ∅ in Mayflower, Fortune or Ann. Stephen arr. Nov. 1621, in the second vessel - "The Fortune." He appears to have been unmarried when he ∅ and remained so as late as 1627. Prob. m. soon after, and it was perhaps for the purpose of erecting a house upon it, that he bought in 1627, of Philip Delanoy, one acre of land. He built the 1st corn mill in New England, in 1632.

Widow Elizabeth's 2nd husb. - Josiah Cooke - was one of 7 men (the other 6 being: Thomas Prence, John Doane, Nicholas Snow, Richard Higgins, John Smalley & Edward Bangs), part of a group sent by the Plymouth Church to examine the Nauset territory. After careful surveyal of the tract, they agreed it was not large enough for the entire Colony, and was too remote for the seat of government but the 7 men named were so impressed by the abundant forests and rich soil of the section, they decided to band together and establish homes of their own there. Permission for the removal of these families was sadly granted by the General Court, for these men were considered among the most able and respected in the Colony & would be greatly missed at Plymouth. It was in April, 1644, that these Pilgrims full of energy & courage took their families & humble possessions to Nauset, on Cape Cod. There were 49 people in the group. Nauset's first town meeting was held in June 1646 and officers elected were: Edw. Bangs, Treasurer; Nicholas Snow, Clerk; and Josias Cook, Constable.

Before rem. to "Nauset", Mr. Cooke had been granted 25 acres of land in 1638, for Stephen's children: Elizabeth, Miriam & Susannah, who appear to have been of age in 1653, as in that year Josiah Cooke "came into court and did make it appear unto the said court that he had truthfully cleared, payed & satisfied whatever was due unto the children of Steven Deane or any of them."

? [illegible]

Walter prob. had 6 ch. in 1659:
John - d. 1727
William - (of Dedham) m. 1677
Jonas - d. 1697 (of Scituate)
The other 3 ~~have~~ may have been daus. or sons who D. early or who rem. from Taunton.

There is a tradition, among the descendants of John & Walter Deane, that a younger brother of theirs Ø to this coutry afterwards, and settled in Conn.

James^2 Dean was a blacksmith; lived a short time in Scituate, Mass.; removed to Stonington, Conn., 1677; had several land grants; went to "Tanton" 1696/7; closed up his business in Stonington leaving son James^3 in possession of homestead and moved to Plainfield 1696, where he bought a great territory. He was the first town clerk and the penmanship of the old gentleman is excellent. James & Sarah were both buried in Plainfield, but James Dean Fish, a desc., had them removed to "White Hall Cemetery" (or "Whitehall Yard"), Mystic, Conn. in 1863 - a new g.s. plus 2 very old stones.

Walter came from Chard, co. Somerset (12-14 mi. so. of Taunton, England). Ø1637 He was first at Dorchester; one of the 46 purchasers of Taunton, Mass. 1638; prominent in town affairs; freeman 4 Dec. 1638; a tanner by trade; Deputy to Plymouth Court 1640; Selectman 1678-86; he and wife Eleanor signed a deed 20 Aug. 1693; his farm was on the west bank of the river - site of home marked by a tablet "1889 - Dean St."; he stated that Taunton, Mass. was named "in honor and love to our native country." He was a founder and stockholder in the first permanent successful iron works in America, in Taunton 1652; he was active in King Philip's war.

I didn't get the above spaced too good, did I? But you get the idea. It was all in capital letters. Worth all the traipsing around, no? I thought so. The lady was very pleased that I was so pleased!! She directed me to home of an 81 yr. old lady who is another genealogy fan. Unfortunately when we got there - nobody home. But across the street comes a very nice gentleman (one of her sons - he and his brother take turns taking the old folks out to ride Sunday afternoons - his father had a stroke last Oct.) and he took me in on the porch, unlocked the house and brought out some of his mother's books.

They were ones I've worked - but thoroughly. But we talked and I asked about the John Dennet branch. And he directed me to a Dennett descendant. So off we went again. A portly little gentleman - living on the old place - the garrison house of John2. He was much interested to meet a "relative" and we had a good visit. He is a retired navy man - admiral, I think. Anyway - he has restored some of the house. Had the plaster taken off the two big front rooms revealing the old WIDE planks and discovering the HUGE fireplace, etc. The rooms are full of antiques (a collector's paradise). The Daughters of Colonial something or other (he wasn't sure as to their title) are placing a plaque on the house June 4th. He showed me the wording he had written for it and we discussed the accuracy of same. He is of the opinion that John2 just couldn't have been smart enough to do it all by himself! Thinks John1 must have helped both financially and physically. Who knows? He has the original deed to the land? Unfortunately I could not locate the grave of John2. That burial ground has been obliterated he said.
T ld and apparently the new owner had plowed up t one little old cemetery of Dennets but they were o ot help me. Believe the oldest stones were for

John[1] Dennet =

The Dennet-Dennett family is of Norman origin, and Hugh D'Anet is said to have come into England with William the Conqueror. There are many of the name Dennet in England, who can trace their lineage back six centuries or more.

Two brothers, John & Alexander Dennet, came from England and settled at Portsmouth, New Hampshire 1668. Alexander settled at Newcastle, N.H. abt. 1670. They may have come over by 1660 or earlier as "Banks Topographical Dict. of 2885 Eng. emigrants to N.E. 1620-1650" says: "John Dennett of Wareham Parish, Dorsetshire, England, settled at Kittery, Maine."

John was a housewright; a freeman of Mass. Bay Colony 15 May 1670 (as of Portsmouth) or 15 May 1672 ("Old Eliot" - Vol. 4)

THOMAS DEXTER'S GRIST MILL
1654-1961

In the early town records, Volume 1654-1692, Page 5, June 26th, we find the first mention of Dexter's Mill:

> "The town hath given full power too Mr. Edward Dillingham and Richard Bourne, in theire behalfe to agree with Tho. Dexter to go on to build the Mill new againe, and what the said Mr. Dillingham and Richard Bourne doeth promise to said Tho. Dexter, the town hath ingaged themselves to stand to their agreement."

The above was the beginning and over the centuries the mill has had a long and varied history. The mill continued in service until the latter part of the 19th century, when modern milling innovations gradually replaced the old water driven grist mills.

During the restoration, later additions to the mill were removed, as they were not of the same period as the mill. These additions were used for many manufacturing enterprises, including carding and cloth dressing, marble works, wheelwrighting, tag making and printing.

The mill still in its original location has been restored to a working 17th century grist mill. Corn will be ground daily so that visitors will actually see how their forefathers converted their corn into meal for their bread. Meal ground at the mill will be available to those who wish to do some old fashioned baking.

The mill machinery is of the earliest type used in this country; water wheel, main drive shaft, and gears are made of wood and are driven by water power from the Mill Pond.

Thomas Dexter Ø with Mr. Endicott in 1629, or in fleet with Gov. Winthrop in 1630 . Brought 3 children, at least, & several servants, but no record of wife (presumably she died before they sailed from England). He may have come from around Bristol, Eng., for in the years that followed he had considerable dealing with people living there. He was in Lynn, Mass., in 1630, on an 800 acre farm; he had many servants and was called "Farmer Dexter." His home was on west side of Saugus River about where iron works were afterward erected. Freeman, 18 May 1631, but disfranchised 4 Mar. 1633. Built a bridge over the river in 1633 and stretched a weir across it and a little later built a mill nearby. He had many quarrels and many vexatious lawsuits. In 1637, he and 9 others obtained grant of township of Sandwich from Plymouth Colony Court. He went there and built 1st grist mill, but did not remain there long for in 1638 he had 350 acres assigned to him as one of the inhabitants of Lynn, Mass. In 1640, he gave a mortgage on his 800 acre farm to Humphrey Hooke, alderman of Bristol, England. He stayed in Lynn until 1646. About this time he purchased 2 farms in Barnstable. In 1648, he had no less than 6 lawsuits in Court, all decided in his favor. In 1657, took Oath of Fidelity; admitted freeman Plymouth Colony 1 June 1658. The next 18(?) years he lived a quiet life on his farm. Removed to Boston about 1673 and lived with his daughter, wife of Capt. Oliver, and died there.

He had rec'd. a good education and wrote a beautiful hand, as papers now in existence will show. He was a man of great energy of character, public-spirited, and ever ready to contribute to the support of any enterprise he thought to be of interest to the colony; always independent, and fearless in the expression of his opinions. Such were his leading traits; but it must be admitted, says one writer, "that his energy of character bordered on stubborness and his independence of thought on indiscretion and self-will." (Gen. of the Dexter Family in America - Wm. A. Warden & Robert L. Dexter - 1905)

In Early Town Records (vol. 1654-1692, p.5, June 26) we find 1st ment of Dexter's mill "The town hath given full power too Mr. Edward Dillinghan and Richard Bourne in theire behalfe to agree with Tho. Dexter to go on to build the Mill new againe and what the said Mr. Dillingham and Richard Bourne doeth promise to said Tho. Dexter, the Town hath ingaged themselves to stand to their agreement." The mill continued in service until the latter part of the 19th century, when modern milling innovations gradually replaced the old water driven grist mills. The mill, still in its original location, has been restored to a 17th century grist mill. ("Welcome to Historic Sandwich & our 325th Anniversary, 1639-1964")

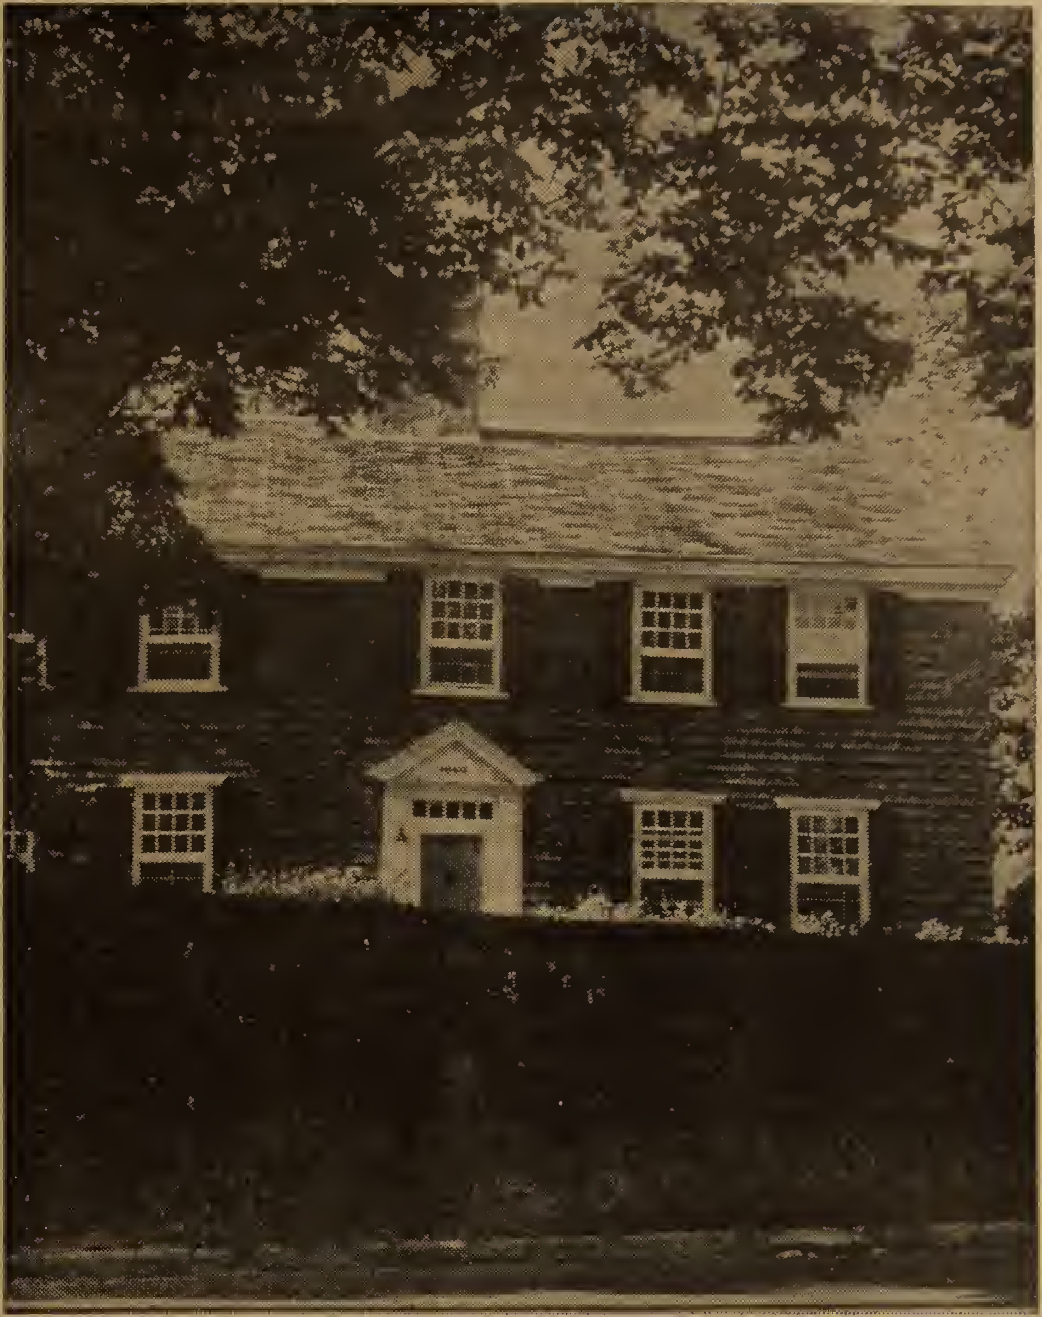
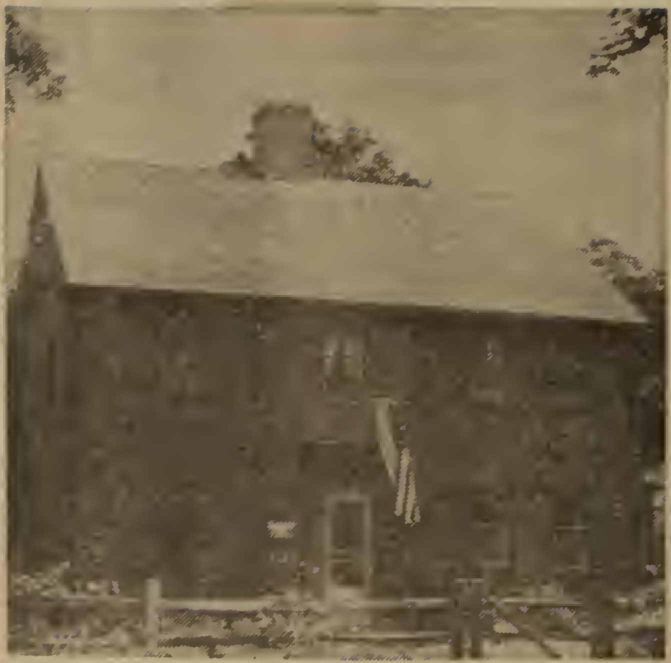
Cape Cod Summer Times Sat. Sept. 4, 1971



THE DILLINGHAM HOUSE is called the oldest hou se in Brewster. It was supposedly built in 1660, but if so, it was greatly altered later. The windows, although of an early type, would probably have been casement type in 1660, and the pedimented door frame believed to be a later addition.



Dillingham House on Old Main Street was built in 1650 by one of the original "Ten Men from Saugus" who settled Sandwich in 1637.

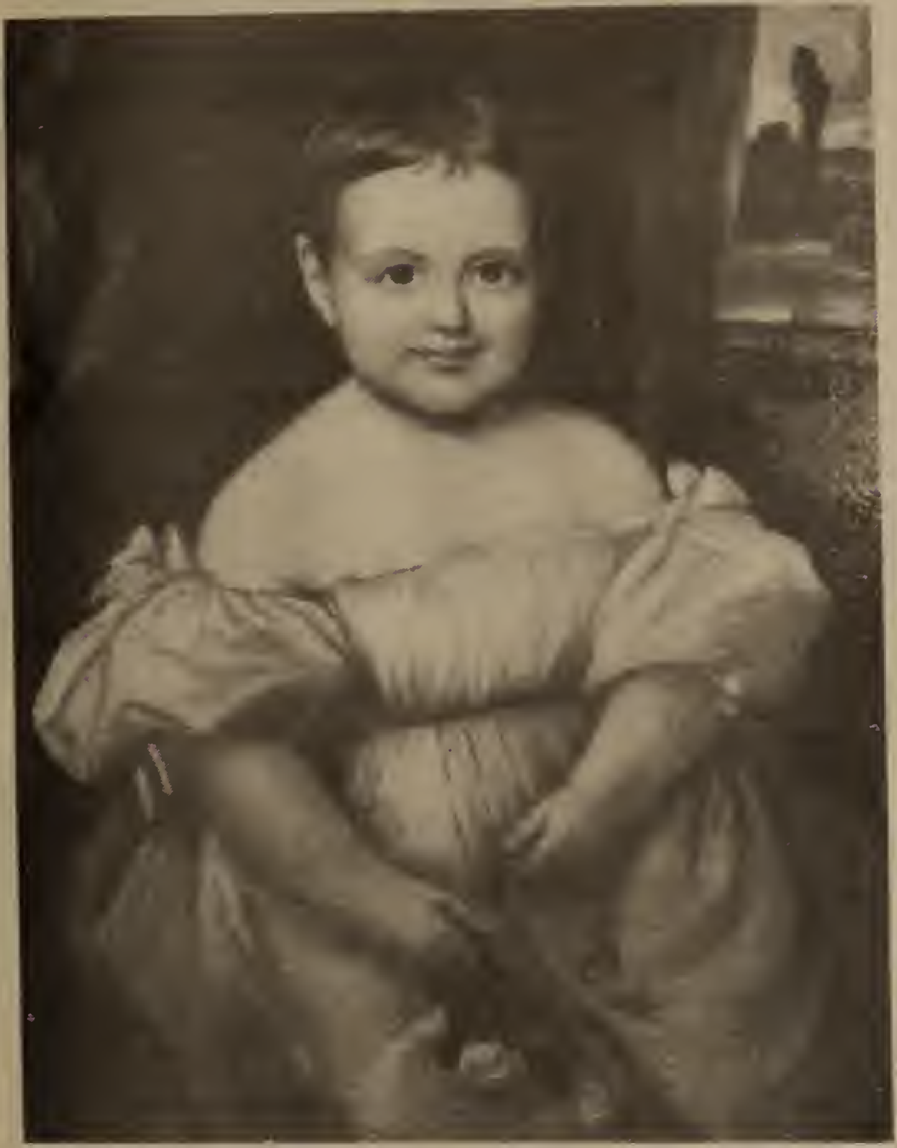
Dillingham house tour, a return to the 17th century



The portrait of the mysterious Dillingham baby, unidentified in family records, hangs in the living room.

Story and photos by Susan Milton.

A rare opportunity to visit Cape Cod's past presents itself this Saturday when the Brewster Historical Society sponsors a tour of the Dillingham House on Route 6-A.

From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. colonially garbed guides will point out special architectural features in each room of the well-preserved, 17th century saltbox home.

The tour is possible through the hospitality of its owner, Mrs. Carl Ahlstrom, a Dillingham descendant, who will be around Saturday to add historical tidbits.

We visited Mrs. Ahlstrom last week for a preview of the house's history, full of the past of the Dillingham family.

The Dillinghams were among the first families of the Cape and Brewster.

Edward, the first Cape Dillingham, was born in 1595 in Cottesbach, Leicestershire, England. he brought his three children to his King's grant on Cape Cod, where he helped found the town of Sandwich, then called Shaume.

The research done by the Dillingham family shows that Edward's son John, born in England about 1630, struck out on his own in the new country and gave the Indians 10 pounds 4 shillings for a tract of land which stretched from Cape Cod Bay to Nantúcket Sound, bounded on the west by Bound Brook on the present Brewster-Dennis line, and on the east by the Saquatucket River.

The Dillingham influence lingers on in Brewster. John's grave is marked by the oldest stone in the old Dillingham burying ground on Stony Brook Road, now maintained by the town. A. Percy Newcomb Road, just around the bend of Route 6-A from the Dillingham homestead, once was named Dillingham Road.

The house and land stayed in Dillingham hands except for a brief break from 1875 to 1915 when the property and house were owned by a family named Black.

Mrs. Ahlstrom's brother, Isaac Snow Dillingham, brought the house back into the family in 1915, and restored the home, preserving the original windows, the doors with their "holy love" hinges, the fireplaces, the steeply pitched front and rear stairways, the paneling and the floors.

An upstairs bedroom, with cradle bench.

The current estate of 34 acres stretches from Route 6-A to Cape Cod Bay and, after a little judicious pruning of interloping pine trees, the vista from the living room overlooks Quivett Marsh. Mrs. Ahlstrom said, "On a clear day, we can look across to Provincetown with binoculars."

Several architectural points of antiquity are obvious to even an uneducated observer. As we approached the front door, we espied the stone foundation, the saltbox profile, and the central chimney.

The front door, flanked by fluted pilasters, is surmounted by a transom with five lights or panes, each pane holding a delicately colored bottle to catch the light of the afternoon sun.

Indoors, the age of the house is more obvious. The wide floorboards are spattered with flecks of paint, the highly prized floor decoration of colonial times.

The layout of the house is also traditional: one room on each side of the central hallway, the borning room (now a butler's pantry) in back of the dining room, and the kitchen across the back of the house.

Each downstairs room and each of two bedrooms upstairs has its own fireplace, most of them with a cast-iron hook ready to hold cooking pots.

The kitchen fireplace is well-equipped with a small fireplace and oven to the side for baking, and a grinder embedded in the brick mantel.

The frame of the house is visible especially in the dining room. The massive summer beam divides the ceiling in two. The girts, the big beams that support the rafters, and the corner posts are covered with decorative moldings, a pattern repeated in the extensive paneling of the formal room.

"All the woodwork came in sailing vessels from England," Mrs. Ahlstrom said.

We counted the number of panes in the windows, twelve in each half, and enjoyed viewing the world distorted by the impurities in the original glass.

That's the architectural background.

The home's distinction lies in its continued use as a home for nine generations of Dillinghams. The funishings and what-nots, many brought back by the Dillingham sea captains, John, James Sullivan, and John III, from their voyages around the world, reinforce the history of the house while still leaving it a home, and not a museum.

Each chest, table and canopied bed has its own niche in the house, reserved by tradition.

Mrs. Ahlstrom remembers the furniture placed just as it is now, from when she first began visiting the house. "That's the nice part. Most of these things have been in the family for years."

There are bench rockers, with a space for a mother to sit while sewing, and a place for baby to lie, guarded against falling by a low railing. There are old desks, a bread table, Hitchcock chairs, Sandwich glass and lacquer chests brought back from Japan.

A portait called "A Dillingham Baby" hangs in the living room, the image of a rotund baby dressed in a formal gown. "This has hung in Boston galleries," Mrs. Ahlstrom said. "It was painted in the 1800's, I suppose. It's that style. That's an awfully dressy thing for a baby to wear. We have no idea who the baby was."

The public showing of the Dillingham house will be a treat. Only a few local groups have toured the house, which this year was listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

There will be another opportunity to tour the house on Saturday. There is an admission donation to support the restoration of Brewster's old windmill and other research projects of the Historical Society.

Refreshments will be served under the arching branches of the old English locust in the back yard, perhaps brought from England long ago by a homesick John Dillingham.

Dear Mrs. Bready:

Your support of the NIB in 1981 helped us promote accountability and sound standards in philanthropy. The enclosed Advance 1981 Report highlights our advisory reporting services to contributors, our efforts to encourage organizations to meet sound standards, and our very successful project to produce uniform reporting for better disclosure to the public, as described in the enclosed news release. NIB's regular Annual Report, including our audited financial statements for 1981, will be sent to you in March 1982.

Our plans for 1982, as summarized in the 1982 budget, include work with the states to improve the quality of

John Doane

June 7, 1651, the Colony Court ordered that the name of Nauset be changed to Eastham Who selected the name, or why, is not to be found recorded in any of the early histories, but undoubtedly it was named in honor of a town in the mother country far across the sea. It is possible the name was chosen by John Doane in memory of the town of Eastham in Cheshire, the county from which he came, or it may have been named for East Ham, a suburb of London, in the County of Essex.

Notes from "THE DOANE FAMILY" - Vol. I - Deacon John Doane of Plymouth compiled by Alfred Alder Doane - 1902

(John^1 Doane)- believed he "came to Plymouth with his wife in 1630."
Mr. Nahum Mitchell, author of "History of Bridgewater, Mass,"in a letter dated 26 Jan. 1849, says, "Mr. John Doane came over to N.E. about 1629 when history informs us that 35 of the Leyden company, with their families, arrived at Plymouth.* He no doubt was one of them and a member of Mr. Robinson's church." There is a tradition he came from "Wales, west of England." * And in 1630 another company came over, both at the expense of their brethren in the colony. [ZCCH+G #5, John Robinson of Leyden]
This tradition and the statement in Ormerod's history, that the last Sir John Done of the Cheshire family, during the trouble of the 17th century, adopted the course of parliament and imbibed Presbyterian tenets, lead us to believe that our American ancestor descended from the ancient Dones of Cheshire, England. This family very early spread out into Shropshire and other counties and possibly into Wales, while the name is found on the registers of several of the parish churches of London as early as 1590.

John Doane must have been known to the Pilgrims previous to his coming to Plymouth. There are strong suggestions that he was in partnership with Mr. John Atwood, who was of London until 1635. The Done families are found in London at this period and in former generations there were not a few John Dones.

[Oct. 28, 1633] At this Court John Done presented an inventory of the goods and chattels of Martha Harding deceased, and in behalf of her son he was allowed the administration of the said Martha. -- Plymouth Colony Records Vol. I, p. 18.

The widow Martha Harding was taxed in Plymouth in 1632 & was living there in Mar. 1633. It has been suggested that she was a sister of Mr. John Doane, and that she d. without a will, leaving a son in the custody of Mr. John Done. Her est. amounted to £20.18s.6. Her debts were £33.9s.1. John Done charged her estate with £9.9s.1. money lent to, and paid out for Martha Harding. Phebe Harding m. John Brown, Jr. of Duxbury, 26 Mar. 1634. Winnifred Harding m. Thos. Whitten in 1639. John Harding was prob. the "Capt. Harding" sent to treat with the Narragansetts in 1645. In 1652 Joseph Harding of Eastham was presented to the Grand Enquest "for carrying an Indian's gun into the smith's to be mended, in his uncle's name." Would John Doane have pd. out over 9 £ for the widow Harding if she was not a relative? Unless a relative, would Martha have left a son to the custody of John Doane when she evidently had other children in Plymouth grown to manhood and womanhood?
[I have not found anywhere that her name was given as Martha Doane, wife of Joseph Harding as you had on the slip you sent me. But I figured she prob. was a sister of John Doane.

Excerpts from letter of John A. Doane to Freeman Doane of Orleans date of letter - Sept. 13, 1880
John Adams Doane - lived No. 17, East Hunter Street
Atlanta Georgia -

P.S. (to letter) I have lived here 31 yrs.

[He must have moved there about 1849 at 24 yrs. of age, before the Civil War. I wonder why?] M.E. Brandy

He says "I have been informed that the name of Doane is of French Norman origin. In France in the 10th cent., a party emigrated to Eng. and their name was written D'Oane. In Eng. it was anglicized + the apostrophe omitted. In 1400 a John Doane was Dean of Winchester, Eng. A little later some of the Doanes went to Ireland.

A little later some of the Doanes went to Ireland."

In the introduction to "The Doane Family" Vol. I - I found the following statement:

> "Beginning about the year 1880, the late John A. Doane of Atlanta Georgia, spent much time and money in compiling a manuscript record of his ancestors. He died before completing the work, and the result of his researches kindly placed at our disposal by his family, are included in this book."
> "About the same time Alfred J. Doane of Jersey City became interested in the subject of the family history and the account we have given of Israel Doane (no.235) and his descendants is the result of his extensive correspondence and persistent research among original records of B and Chester Counties, Pa.

June 7, 1651, the Colony Court ordered that the name of Nauset be changed to Eastham. Who selected the name, or why, is not to be found recorded in any of the early histories, but undoubtedly it was named in honor of a town in the mother country far across the sea. It is possible the name was chosen by John Doane in memory of the town of Eastham in Cheshire, the county from which he came, or it may have been named for East Ham, a suburb of London, in the county of Essex.

DEAR MRS. BREADY:

WHEN YOU GO TO ONE OF YOUR GENEALOGY MEETING ON THE CAPE WILL YOU SEE IF YOU CAN FIND SOME DOWNS DATES FOR ME.

NEED DATES AND PARENTS FOR: DAVID & BETHIAH(HOWES)DOWNS OF YARMOUTH,MASS. THEY HAD CHILDREN THERE IN 1829 & ON, BUT CAN NOT FIND THIER PARENTS.CHILDREN WERE: HELLEN, IRA, RUSSELL, & SIMEON DOWNS, ALL BORN IN YARMOUTH,MASS.
1829 1831 1832 1834

ALSO NEED THE MARRIAGE DATE FOR HELLEN DOWNS TO HENRY PHILLIPS, THEY MOVED TO R.I. LATER.

THANKS FOR ANY HELP YOU CAN GIVE ME ON THIS FAMILY. WILL SEE YOUR SISTER ON SUNDAY IF SHE CAN GET DOWN TO PARSONSFIELD.

SINCERELY,

John A. Downs

DEAR MRS. BREADY:

DOROTHY MOORE AND I WORK TOGETHER ON THE FAMILIES WE ARE RELATED TO SO AS TO HELP EACH OTHER OUT. SHE SENT ME YOUR LETTER AND WILL GET THIS ANSWER IN THE MAIL TO YOU.

I AM OUT OF THE THOMAS 1 DOWNES LINE OF DOVER,N.H. AND I HAVE TAKEN UP WHERE WILLIAM E.D. DOWNES LEFT OFF. HAVE OVER 300 FAMILIES SO FAR IN THIS LINE. LAST SUNDAY I WENT TO THE "ANCIENT LANDMARKS SOCIETY" OF PARSONSFIELD,ME. AND WHILE DOWN THERE I WAS TALKING TO A LADY FROM NORWAY,ME. & NEITHER ONE OF US HAS THE ANSWER AS TO WHOM LOIS DOWNS IS. I AM SURE SHE IS NOT THE DAUGHTER OF THOMAS 4 & JUDITH DOWNES. THOMAS WAS BORN 17 FEB 1713/14. IF I HAVE TO GUESS I WOULD THINK SHE WAS A DAUGHTER OF WILLIAM 3 DOWNES & MARY PITMAN. HE HAD SIX CHILDREN BUT WE CAN FIND ONLY FIVE FOR SURE & THEY WERE BORN IN THE 1720's. DO YOU HAVE THE DATES FOR MATURIN 3 & LOIS RICKER? WE DO NOT HAVE THEM. IS THERE ANY THING ELSE YOU CAN GIVE ME ON THEM, WHERE BURIED ; OR MARRIED, ANY THING I CAN CHECK ON FROM THIS END, IT WOULD SURE HELP. CAN NOT FIND ANYTHING MORE TO HELP YOU OUT AT THIS TIME BUT HOPE TO HEAR FROM YOU ABOUT THE DATES SOON. IF I CAN CHECK ON ANY OTHER DOWNES/DOWNS FOR YOU LET ME KNOW. WILL SEE WHAT I HAVE IN MY FILES.

SINCERELY,
John A. Downs

HANS^{1} DREPER, b. ; d. ; m. , MARITIE PIETERS, dau. of ; b. 1620; d. .

He was prob. a Lutheran - first ment. in New Amsterdam - ltr in Albany

—17 Jan. 1656 - In the City Hall - Hans Dreper, pltf. v/s Adriaen Keyser, deft. - says he gave deft. last yr., a letter w/a beaver, which Lourens Jansen was to take w/him to Holland to buy something w/it there, which beaver he, Keyser, did not deliver to Lourens - requests restitution of sd beaver - deft. admits receiving letter w/ the beaver & that he undertook to hand same to Lourens - that when they went in the yachts to the ship he took the same along, but as he could not get on board, he delivered the letter & beaver, but does not know into whose hands they were put - maintains he is not bound to restore same, as he went in the boat only for pleasure - parties being heard, the Court ordered Adriaen Keyser to prove in whose hands he put the letter & beaver, or in default thereof to give the pltf. another beaver. (Ref.: Court Minutes of New Amsterdam -Vol. II)

—20 June 1656 - rec'd. Gr-br. (ground-brief) to lot #16 : a lot in the city of New Amsterdam, opposite to Hendrick Willemsen Baker. is in br. on the street or N. side, 2 r., 7 ft.; and on S., 2 r., 5 ft.; in length on W., 5 r. and on E., 2 r., 3 ft., 3 ins. He was gr. permission to "tap" in 1656 and kept a tavern on lot #16 (at cor. of present Broad & Pearl Sts., site now covered by Bush Terminal Bldg. - seems to hv bn of trustful disposition & customers frequently tk advntg of him - often obliged to sue them for board & "consumed drink" for which they had not pd. (pltf. v/s Abba Clasen, deft. - for sum of fl. 47: 2 for rec^{d} board & drink - deft. admits debt, but says he has no money -requests delay until he shall hv md a journey to the Fort Orange - Court condemns him to pay sum demanded w/in 14 days) -this was in 1658)(Ref.: Iconograp of Manhattan Island-Vol. I & II (Stokes) & Court Mins. of N.A.-Vol. II —14th April. (1657) made Small Burgher (Burghers or Freemen wr divided into 2 classes in Amsterdam, Jan. 31, 1652, & 5 yrs. ltr in New Amsterdam - only mbrs of the 1st class or Great Burghers were eligible to higher municipal offices of Schout, Burgomasters & Schepens, Orphan-masters, etc. - small burghers had only privilege of trade & might be appt'd to minor or servile offices. (Ref.: Administrative Minutes of New Amsterdam - Vol. VII

—1658 - Merritje Dreper claimed a young pig which Jacob Wolfersen sold to Grietie Dircks for 6 guilders - says she marked it last yr. on Ascension day - the Court ordered her to prove it on next Court day - Hans brot in 2 witnesses who sd it was his - Court ordered Hans to keep his hog & Grietje has to look to whomsoever she bought the hog from. (Ref.: Court Mins of N.A.-Vol. II)

—1660 - a deft., among others, & fined "according to placard for boarding vessel coming from the Fatherland on their first arrival. The Schout de Sille says, "'tis known, that he endeavoured heretofore with a naked sword in his hand, to prevent the people boarding the vessels, but could not do it: whereupon he has orders to say no more, but to report those, that went on board and fine them." - each deft. fined 25 guilders according to placard.

The Schout de Sille requests that Hans Dreper be condemned in a fine for the poor, as he did not hesitate on the prosecution of the Under Sheriff (Resolveert Waldron), to say before the Court: Thou lyest - he was told to pay to th Poor "for his unbecoming language the sum of six guilders and not to leave the City Hall before he shall have paid the six guilders."
(Ref.: Court Minutes of New Amsterdam - Vol. III)

DREPER / DREEPER

—23 May 1662 - in the City Hall - Schout Pieter Tonneman, pltf. v/s Hans Dreper, deft. -wants deft. sent to prison for 6 weeks on bread & water or to remedy the same by 200 guilders, "for that the deft. both within & without the ho. of Claas Gangelofzen Visser has manifested hostility to the sd Visser & insulted & berated him &c.; according to declaration thereof produced, all w/costs - Deft. says he is not conscious of any thing & has arranged the matter with Visser as well w/the Officer & his witness declared that Hans had arranged w/Officer & that the Officer shook hands w/him on condition of paying a treat - Officer denies - the Court tells Hans to prove this arrangement by next Court day - exhibits proof - pltf demands copy & Court grants his request. (Ref.: Court Mins. of N.A.-Vol. IV

—1666/9 - The Court hvng rec'd & read the petition of the curators of Rommel Van Thienhoven, Isacq Foreest, Johannes de Wit Cum Sociis, requesting in substance, that the cor. wall alongside Hans Drepers ho. may be built up by the City, as they suffer great damage thereby, and still dread more etc. It is apostilled: Court shall tk care that the demanded cor. wall shall be built up by the first opportunity. (this was a seawall, beside the small boat inlet)
(Ref.: Court Minutes of New Amsterdam-Vol. VI)

—1670 - Hans Dreper, one of the "Old Standers" of this Place, who all do declare that the Middle fence betwixt the two lotts of John Cooley & Cornelius Clopper since Severall Yeares past hath bene made & sett up at or about the Middle of the Passage [illegible]. (Ref.: Court Minutes of New Amsterdam-Vol. VI)

—5 May 1670 - determined by Mr. Simon Jansz Romeyn, as att'y for Hans Dreper, handled transfer & conveyance of his ho. & lot in New Orange (name the Dutch gv New Amsterdam when they recaptured ~~it from the~~ "New York" from the English - for a brief time when the English tk it back) - this lot on the "Strand, about the New Bridge" (see description of other p.) (Ref.: Book of New York Deeds-N.Y. Hist'l Soc. Collections - 1913) Date of deed, 14 Feb. 1674.

Somewhere along in here they rem. to Albany as on 4th July 1670 Marytje Pieters, ae abt 50 yrs., w. of Hans Dreeper, md a deposition bef. a Notary public in New Albany re Ludovicus Coobes insulting in public Tryntje Melgers, a licensed vroedvrouw or midwife.

—6 Nov. 1674 - liv in ho. owned by Johannes Provoost who sold it to Jacob Steets (Ref.: Albany County Records)

—15 Apr. 1681 - ment. in land deed - his land being one of the boundaries in description. (Ref.: Early Records of Albany-Vol. 2 - Deeds, 1678-1704)

Two of his ch.: HENDRICK(bap. 29 Aug. 1654) & STYNTIE(bap. 19 Jan. 1656)
(Ref.: Baptisms-Reformed Dutch Ch.-N.Y.)

—Most of this we probably should omit when we can ever get the necessary statistics for making up the Dreyer section. Interesting however to read.

Most of the DRETPER info I rec'd. recently is info concerning home, business, etc., and court cases, etc. - two baptisms - not a complete genealogy - but interesting and for free so I can't complain. Well partially free, anyway.

DRYDEN

November 1, 1970

Mr. Richard E. Reay #940
2241 Hoyt N.W.
Portland, Oregon 97210

Dear Mr. Reay,

Please forgive the long silence on my part.

Currently, I am involved in the preparation of a new supplement to the previous genealogies, "The Eddy Family in America." As a result, I am frequently pressed for time for my own personal correspondence.

I was very happy to hear from you, and to learn about your Dryden ancestors.

My line is as follows:

Walton, Co. Cumberland
William Dryden of [illegible]and, England, was the father of:

David Dryden of Staffe Hill, Co. Cumberland
m. Isabel Nicholson of Staffe Hill; they were the parents of:

John Dryden, d. Sept. 30, 1584; of Canons Asby, Northants
m. Elizabeth Cope; they were the parents of:

Bridget Dryden, b. ca. 1564; d. ca. 1645
m. ca. 1587-89, as his 2nd wife, Rev. Francis Marbury (1555-1611)
They were the parents of Anne Marbury, bapt. 1591; d. 1643; m. William Hutchinson - and, in history books is known as Anne Hutchinson - banned from Boston in the 1630's; and eventually massacred by the Indians in New York State.

Most of the above data were abtained from "Ancestry of Anne Hutchinson" by John Denison Clark. (This dates back to some of my earlier research - in 1963 - and I neglected further details about the source book. However, this book is available in the New England Historic Genealogical Society Library.)

Most of the Dryden data you sent was more "recent" than my Dryden ancestors. However, it is possible that my William Dryden (above) was realted to your ancestors.

Did you also write to Member # 106, Mr. Hadwin Jenkins (now of Bath, N.Y.), who is also descended from Bridget Dryden and Francis Marbury? You can see from the above, that he and I are related. However, I did not write to him, as there are so many things of the moment that require my time. If you did write to Mr. Jenkins, and if he did reply, I would be very much interested in what he had to say.

I f you have any further data on any of my ancestors (above), I would greatly appreciate it, if you would share it with me. In turn, if there is any way in which I could be of assistance to you, I would be very happy to help.

Sincerely,

Miriam B. Eddy

Dear Mrs. Eddy,

According to the Connecticut society of Geneology, you are interested in John DRYDEN. The following are some references to John DRYDENS:

bapt. 17 Dec. 1701 - John, son of John DRIDON, of Newburn, Northumberland.
married 18 June, 1727: John DRIDON, of Newburn to Hannah JOHNSTON.
buried 10 Sept. 1689: John, son of John DRYDON, of Newburn.
" 20 April, 1707: John DRYDON, of Newburn.
" 11 Nov 1791: John DRYDEN, of Callerton, Northumberland.

bapt. 21 Jan. 1718: Nicholas, son of John DRYDEN, of Welton, Cumberland.
bapt. 9 Sept. 1798: John, son of James DRYDEN, native of Kelso, & Margaret ATCHESON, of Morpeth. (I have several sheets on this family)

1851 Census - Berwick on Tweed

Pig Stys - John DRYDEN, head, unmar., age 62, ropemaker, of Tweedmouth Elisabeth ", sister, ", 34, straw hat maker, "
Ann RIDDLE, niece, , 15, , Westminster, Middlesex.
Felters Lane
James DRYDEN, head, mar., age 44, farm laborer, N. Tweedmouth
Mary Ann ", wife, ", 43, , N. Milfield
John ", son, 3, , N. Tweedmouth.

My DRYDEN line starts in North Shields, Newcastle-on-Tyne, where they owned docks and sailing ships. (They lost all of it when steamships came in). Related surnames are: DALE, HANSELL, REAY, STOKES, WILLSON. Hoping we may be of mutual help, I remain

DUDLEY

Will of THOMAS DUDLEY.

Of Roxbury in New England, made in perfect health, the 26th of Aprill, 1652; for my sole I comend it unto the hande of my God in whome I haue beleued, whome I haue loued, which hee hath promised to receiue in Iesus Christ my redeemer & sauiour, with whome I desire euer to bee, leaueing this testimony behinde mee for the Vse & example of my posteritie, & any other vpon whome it may worke, that I haue hated & doe hate euery falce way in religion, not only the old Idolitry & superstition of Popery which is wearing away, but much more (as being much worse) the more herisies blasphamies & error of late sprunge vpp in our natiue country of England & secretly receicied & fostered.--My body I desire to bee buried neare my first wife, if my present wife be liuing at my death. My temporall estate I intend to despose of it as iustly and equally as I can contriue it, betweene the posteritie of my childn by my first wife, and my children by my last wife, accounting Thomas Dudley & John Dudley my grand children (whome I haue brought upp) in some sort as my immediate children. First what I couenanted at my marriage with my p^{r}sent wife, to giue to her, & such child^{ne} as I should haue by her, bee made good vnto them, with this condition & explanacon; that all my lands in Roxbury, being duely vallued by my executor, wth all my goods, debts, plate, household stuffe, & bookes.--My sonne Joseph Dudley to haue a double portion, & Paule Dudley & Deborah Dudley each a single percon;--land to goe to Joseph according to my foremenconed couenant, & y^{e} Goods & debts to Paule & Deborah. If the land amount to more than a double porcon, then to take ovt of y^{e} same from Joseph, and giue it to Paule & Deborah. My present wife & my three children to haue all my lands, goods, & debts, (except what I giue to others) I giue to the children of my sonne Samuell Dudley, the 6th part of my mill at Watertowne, & of the house & fifteene acres of land in Watertown, together wth a 6th part of y^{e} debt w^{ch} Thos: Mayhew his heires doe owe me for not performing their bargaine wth me, for w^{ch} the said myll was pte of my assurance--to be equally divided among them.--To the childn of my dau. Bradstreete, another 6th. To the childrn of my dau. Danison, another 6th.--To the children of my dau. Woodbridge another 6th. Also vnto the aforesaid Thomas Dudley, another 6th; & to the aforesaid John Dudley the other 6th. If my sonne Samull Dudley, or any of my three daughters, Bradstreete, Denison, or Woodbridge, have any more children, they shall haue equal shares with the rest. To enter upon said mill & lands the 20th day of October next, after my death & not before. They to pay my dau. Sarah Pacy, half yearly, 20s. apiece yearly. To the deacons of the church of Roxbury, 5 markes, by them to be distributed to the poor of said towne. Worthy & beloued friends, John Elliott, teacher of the church at Roxbury, Samull Danforth, pastor of the said church, John Johnson, Surveyor Generall of the Armes, & Willm Parkes of the said church, giueing to each of them, if they shall liue, 2 years after my death, 5l. apiece--that they will doe for mee & mine as I would haue done for them & theirs in the like case. In my former will I have named my sons executors, but better considering of their remote dwelling, &c., I have chosen my aforesaid friends to be executors.

THO: DUDLEY.

To grand-childe Thomas Dudley, 10l a yeare, for 2 yrs after my death, besides what I shall owe the colledge for him at my death. To grand-childe, John Dudley, 15l. a yeare, for 3 yeares after my death. To wife I give the tyme & interest I haue in John Ranken, also all my rent & profitts of my will at Watertowne, from the day of my death till the 20th of October, then next following, on condition that she giue to my dau., Sarah Pacy, her diett, &c., or after the rate of 6l. by the yeare, till she is to receive what I haue giuen her out of my will--I meane her first payment thereof. Whereas my sonne, Samuell Dudley, hath beene importunate with me to mayntaine his sonne, Thomas, at y^{e} colledge at Cambridge, untill the month of August, 1654, when he is to take his 2d. degree, I haue consented thereto, but see that the case of the Educacon of my younger children doth compell me to retreate and revoake from my said sonne, Samuel, and his other children & their heeres, the 6th part of my mill & lands at Watertowne, and do revoake & call back also 20l. I gaue to the said Thomas Dudley his sonne, & 45l. I gaue to John Dudley, another of the sonnes of my said sonne Samuell Dudley, w^{ch} I hereby doe, yett because it is not equall that John Dudley aforesaid (who hath been seruisable to me) should losse any thing by my benefycence to his brother, I do hereby giue vnto him, the said John Dudley, all the said 6th part of my myll & land at Watertowne, w^{ch} I had formerly giuen to his father, or his younger brothers & sisters, so that I haue settled a 3d part of the said mill vpon him the said John Dudley, & a 6th part vpon the said Thomas Dudley. Witness my hand, this 13th day of Aprill, 1653.

THOMAS DUDLEY.

My will is that this schedule be annexed to my will, & be as authenticall as the same, and my meaning is, that this 6th part of the mill at Watertowne be charged wth 40s. a yeare, to be paid to my dau. Sarah Pacy, as before this schedule was made. My dau. Pacy to haue guen her a feather bed & boulster, w^{ch} shee had when she liued last at Boston, one yellowe Rugg & 2 blanketts of the worser sort, 2 paire of little sheetes, & a chest.
May 28th, 1653.

THO: DUDLEY.

The charge of my long sicknesse, I thereby being disenabled to make bargaines as I was wont for the vpholding of my estate, I finde my estate thereby, and by other means soe weakned, that the due care of my thre youngest children's education compelleth mee to reuoake & detract a 6th part of what I had giuen to mine other children & grand child^{n} out of my will, & settle it vpon my three younger child^{n}, I do therefore recall from my other child^{n}. a 6th part out of euery share w^{ch} by my will I had formerly giuen them. And I giue the said 6th parts to my said three youngest children. Witness my hand to this schedule also. Witness, Samuel Danforth, who wrot this, as Mr. Dudley dictated to me by his direction, this 8th day of July, 1653.

THO: DUDLEY

My three youngest child^{n}. shalbe rateably charged for what is here giuen them to my daughter Sarah Pacy, as the others are.

Tho: Dudley

Mr. John Johnson, on the 15th of August, 1653, appeared before the Magistrates, & did on his oath present this as the last will of Tho: Dudley, late of Roxbury, Esqr. w^{ch} was found in the chest of the said THOMAS DUDLEY, psently after his decease, vnder locke & key.

Edw^{d}. Rawson, Recorder.

The magistrates did allow & approue of this will with the schedules annexed. Present, Richard Bellingham, Esq. Mr. Nowell, & Mr. Hibbins.

Edw^{d}. Rawson, Recorder.

Thomas became an orphan early in life. While still young, he became a page in the family of William, Lord Compton, (later Earl of Northampton). He was a steward to the Earl of Lincoln; a clerk to his mother's kinsman, Judge Nichols; and a captain in the low countries.

On 26 Aug. 1629, Thomas Dudley, with 11 others, signed an agreement at Cambridge, England, whereby they pledged themselves to remove w/their families to N.E. by the 1st of the next March, provided the whole government together with the patent, should be legally transferred before the last of Sept. to remain with such plantation. 20 Oct. 1629, he was chosen an Assistant, & on the 18 of following March, Bradstreet was elected to same office, in place of Mr. Thomas Goffe.

Thomas Dudley was soon elected to the responsible position of "undertaker" - that is, to be one of those having "the sole managinge of the ioynt stock, wth all things incydent thervnto, for the space of 7 yeares." At a Court of Ass'ts. held aboard the "Arbella" on the 23d of March, he was chosen Dep.Gov., in place of Mr. John Humphrey, who was to stay behind in England. Dep. Gov 13 yrs.

They set sail 29 Mar. but on account of adverse winds by which they were delayed, they put into the port of Yarmouth, a small place on the Isle of Wight. On 8 April 1630 they set sail again for N.E., landing in Salem, 12 June 1630. Thomas brought ?4 ch. (?6)* with him. Apparently the same ship on which his dau. Anne & her husb, Simon Bradstreet Ø. Thomas resided Charlestown, Boston & Ipswich; rem. from Ipswich to Roxbury, Mass. in 1639. Governor's asst. 7 years

Thomas was elected Governor in 1634.

DUTCHER

The town rec's. of Salisbury, liber 4, p. 367, contains the following details of a div. of the Dutcher prop. among the brothers:

Whereas we, Christopher of Canaan in the county of Hartford, Colony of Connecticut, New England, and Johannes Dutcher, Cornelius Dutcher, Ruluff Dutcher and Gabriel Dutcher, all of Salisbury in the County of New Haven and Colony aforesaid, have all of us a share in the land lying in Salisbury, formerly known by the name of Weatauge, which our Honored Father Ruluff Dutcher Late of said Weatauge, Deceased Left to us his children to be Divided Equally amongst us Excepting the orchard and the Home Lott which piece is bounded North on a fence between orchard and the plowland, south on a fence, that is about eight rods southward of the House that our said Father Dwelt in East on a Cove and west on a swamp which piece by a Legacy in our said Father's Last Will and Testament, bearing Date January the seventeenth A.D. 1736, was given to Gabriel, as by sd will may appear therefor to the end that a perpetual portion and Division be had and made between us the Parties and each one of us should have our respective parts and proportions of all the above mentioned Lands (Excepting some swamps on the old Farm orchard without draining are useless and therefore for the present held in common amongst us) according to Quantity and Quality set forth to each one in Particular. [Here follows a description of the several plots or farms among the children, which covers six closely written pages, making probably three thousand words or more.]

N. B. Whereas the foregoing Instrument was Drawn at the time of the Date thereof and not executed and the above named Christopher deceased, we Herty Dutcher, wife of Deceased Christopher Dutcher, and Ruloff Dutcher, son of said Christopher Dutcher, both of Canaan in Litchfield County as heirs of the said Christopher Dutcher Deceased, with the Rest of the Subscribers have mutually agreed to execute the above Instrument in Salisbury, July the 24th A.D. 1758.

In presence of
Andrew Stevens
John Hutchinson

Salisbury in Litchfield County July 24, 1758, then Mrs. Herty Dutcher and Ruluff Dutcher of Canaan and John Dutcher and Gabriel Dutcher, all signers and sealers of the above Instrument, personally appeared in said Salisbury, and acknowledged the same to be their Act and deed before me, John Hutchinson, Justice of ye Peace.

Dear Mrs Beady

My camera (35mm) seems to have been taken over by a demon who is chewing up the film during film advancing. To repair it or junk it is the question of the moment.

I did copy the legend for you so that you will have something. The bronze tablet is set into a common field boulder approximately 4 ft wide by 2½ ft high and the monument sits under a tree on the front lawn of our Municipal Building at Main and Arch St.

I'm sorry I could not be of more help to you. There is no charge.

Sincerely
Robert T Gagnon

No children recorded as baptized at Plymouth. Birth of Thomas is not [Mfr recorded at Plymouth, but that he was the oldest son is evidenced by the [Mfr fact that he inherited his father's Narragansett rights. The 2d, 3d, 4th & 5th [Mfr children are on Plymouth records as children of Daniel and Sarah, and are [Mfr numbered 1, 2, 3, and 4. That Sarah in the record is an error is proved by [Mfr the will of Thomas Caswell of Middleboro and Taunton, who leaves daughter Hannah, the wife of Daniel Ramsdell, a heifer, in 1691. In a sale of land by heirs of Thomas Caswell, Nov. 12. 1721, Hannah, widow of Daniel Ramsden, joins with her brothers and sisters.

"The Yarmouth Families of Eldredge" (Amos Otis)

Name variously written; Eldred Eldredge, Eldritch, Aldredge Alderedg. Two of the name were among the early settlers in Yarmouth: Robert and William.

Robert^1, May 25, 1639, is named as a kind of servant of Captain Nicholas Sympkins, who at that date assigned his services to Mr. Thomas Prence for the term of 3 yrs. from the following July. As 7 yrs. was the usual term of apprenticeship, the above facts indicate that Robert came over in 1635. In 1643 he was of Plymouth, and soon after removed to Yarmouth.

7. Joel^{2} b. about 1654; d. young.

In the matter of a belief that Lt.John Ellis was a crewman on the Mayflower as Mr. James Geer believes, I have found no proof that he was or wasn't. The book entitled "SANDWICH A Cape Cod Town" by Russell A. Lovell, Sandwich Archivist, 1984, states that Lt. John Ellis came to Sandwich with son John Jr. by a previous marriage and settled in Sagamore Highlands area near Plymouth.

In a small booklet entitled: A BRIEF HISTORY of the PILGRIMS Taken from Bradford's and Winslow's Own Writings
With Illustrations.

This gives listings of the passengers on the Mayflower, the Fortune, the Anne, and Little James. Under the "Mayflower" there is an alphabetical listing including ________ Ely, and a statement that he was hired to remain in the colony a year as a seaman. Returned to England when his time was up.

William Trevor had the same statement by his name, hired as seaman for a year. (Also sp. Trevore in some records) Returned to England when time was up.

Book entitled "SHIP PASSENGER LISTS" National and New England (1600 - 1825) by Carl Boyer, 3^{d} published in 1977 uses the above book for a reference as well as "History of Plymouth Plantation (1620 - 1647)(Boston: Massachusetts Historical Society, 1856), 447-455. This lists 101 passengers and 5 people the group hired to go with them, including John Alden, hired as a cooper at South-Hampton and it was left for him to decide whether to go or stay. He stayed and married here.

John Allerton and Thomas Enlish were both hired, the later (latter) to goe m^{r} of a shalop here, and ye other was reputed as one of ye company, but was to go back (being a seaman) for the help of others behind. But they both dyed here, before the ships returned.

There were allso other 2. seamen hired to stay a year here in this country. William Trevore, and one Ely. But when their time was out, they both returned.

2nd trip.
The master of thie Mayflower was the famous Captain William Peirce. The boat left Gravesend, London, March, 1629 and arrived at Plymouth, May 15,1629. There were something over 35 passengers, Many of them from Leyden.

Dear Mrs. Bready:

We are in receipt of your letter of August 11th requesting help in obtaining some pictures from Hartford. May we suggest that you write Mr. Robert Gagnon, 125 Newbury Street, Hartford, CT 06114. He said he would be willing to help you if he can.

Sincerely yours,

Do you have a friend in Hartford who would go to the corner of Main + Arch streets + get us each a good snapshot of the "Adventurers Boulder" located there? I have a copy of the wording (don't know what book I ever found it in — or when.) Edward Elmer's name is on it, among others. It would be nice to add to our collection. Will pay reasonable charge naturally — don't expect to ever be down there again.

ESTATE OF JOHN WEBSTER OF IPSWICH.

Inventory of John Webster's lands and goods sworn to 29: 7: 1646, by his widow, Mary Webster, who is appointed administratrix. Ipswich Quarterly Court Records, vol. 2, leaf 5.

Petition of Mary, widow of John Webster, that her eldest son, John, should have the land called the farm, of about 32 acres, which lyeth between Mr. Rogers oxe pasture and Thom. Bishop's farm, when he is twenty-one years, he to pay Nathan, the youngest child, 5li. at fourteen years, or if he refuse, then the 1-4 part of that land in kind or worth; that Mary, Stephen and Hannah may have the Island bought of the widow Androws, in equal portions, when they shall be twenty-one; that Elisabeth, Abigail and Israell have 20 nobles each, when twenty-one; the dwelling house and 6 acres of land tied to make it good. The Court, Nov. 4, 1646, granted that the estate be ordered as the widow desired and appointed her administratrix, to give bond for security in such sum as the next Ipswich court shall approve and receive of her the inventory amounting to 147li. 5s. Mass. Bay Colony Records, vol. 2, page 184.

John Emery of Newbury married Mary, widow of John Webster, late of Ipswich, and she had power from the Court to administer and dispose of his goods to his children. Some of the children now grown, almost ready to receive their portions, John Emery petitions for liberty to sell the Island which is devided to three of the children, and also the house and 6 acres of land which was bound to make good the 20li. to the other three, and upon grant of this, binds himself to pay the children the full price he shall sell it at, and to the other three children, who are to have 20 nobles, to make good to them the 8li. apiece and to pay the daughters their portions at eighteen and the sons at twenty-one years. Mass. Archives, vol. 15B, page 147.

The above petition was granted Oct. 14, 1651. Mass. Bay Colony Records, vol. 3, page 254.

The AMERICAN GENEALOGIST Vol. XVII October 1940

JOHN² EMERY'S WIFE

By Clarence Almon Torrey, Ph.B., of Dorchester, Mass.

In the Genealogical Records of Descendants of John and Anthony Emery (1890), compiled by Rev. Rufus Emery, with the assistance of the Emery Genealogical Committee, it is stated that John² Emery married Oct. 2, 1648, Mary Webster, daughter of John and Mary (Shatswell) Webster, and that John¹ Emery married second, Oct. 29, 1650, Mary (Shatswell) Webster, widow of John Webster. Evidence will be offered that John² Emery did not marry Mary² Webster and that his father's second marriage probably took place Oct. 29, 1647.

David W. Hoyt's account of the early history of the Emery family in his Old Families of Salisbury and Amesbury, Massachusetts, is in agreement with the Emery Genealogy concerning the above mentioned marriages (see pages 152-3, 342-3). After his account was published he became convinced that the dates were wrong, as appears from his statement on page 862, as follows:

> The question has been raised whether the dates of the m. of (2) JOHN¹ EMERY and (6) JOHN EMERY are correct, or should be exchanged. Ip. V. R. have no such record. The original Nb. rec. reads: "John Emery m. Mary Webster, Oct. ———." The date just before is 1648, the one just after is 1651. The Nb. town copy inserts "wid. John of Ip." and "29, 1650." It looks as if the two dates; "Oct. 29, 1650," and "Oct. 2, 1648," are different interpretations of the one original: "Oct. ———." The age of (6) JOHN and the date of his first child, render 1650 or '51 a more probable date for his mar. 1648 is a more probable date for (2) JOHN¹.

It seems necessary to try to account for the various readings, at different periods, of the original Emery-Webster marriage record. The town copy of the marriage record is supposed to have been made by Henry Short, Newbury town clerk for over twenty years, beginning in 1686. We know that the ink used in making some early records has faded so that the records are now read with difficulty, if at all. It is believed that the date of the marriage in the original record when Henry Short served as town clerk was Oct. 29, ——; that in the course of time the 9 faded so that when the material for the Emery Genealogy was gathered, many years ago, the date appeared to be Oct. 2, ——; that afterward the 2 faded so that by 1911, when the Newbury vital records were published, the date appeared to be Oct. ——.

Henry Short, the town clerk, was born in Newbury, March 11, 1651/2. Undoubtedly, he was well acquainted with the Emery, Webster and related families. Evidently, he knew that John¹ Emery's second wife was the widow Webster and we feel certain that he knew the family to which John² Emery's wife belonged.

However, he would not have personal knowledge of the day of the month in which the Emery-Webster marriage took place, for it occurred before he was born, unless duly informed by some one, presumably an Emery or a Webster.

That he did not consult any one seems clear from the year he assigned to the marriage, viz. 1650. In October, 1650, John¹ Emery and his second wife, had a daughter Ebenezer, born Sept. 14, or 16, 1648, hence over two years of age, at the supposed marriage date. If both dates are correct there would have been court proceedings against John¹ Emery and his wife. It seems evident that the actual date of the marriage was probably Oct. 29, 1647 and that Henry Short erroneously entered the year as 1650 because the previous entry was 1648 and the following one 1651. John Webster died before Sept. 29, 1646, when his widow Mary swore to the inventory of his estate. She was mentioned as his widow Nov. 4, 1646. There is circumstantial evidence that John¹ Emery was a widower in 1646. The marriage must have taken place after Nov. 4, 1646 and on Oct. 29, in some year before 1648, as their daughter was born in Sept. 1648, hence Oct. 29, 1647, if the month and day of the month were correctly entered.

By her first husband, John Webster, Mary Shatswell had four sons and four daughters, including a daughter Mary. The daughters are all mentioned in her will, April 1, 1693, except Mary. She also mentioned her daughter Ebenezer,* who was by her second husband, John¹ Emery.

John² Emery's wife Mary was living in 1693, when his stepmother, Mary Emery, made her will. As the widow did not mention her daughter Mary, or any heirs of Mary, she died, presumably, unmarried, or if she married and had issue her children died young.

As previously stated the Emery Genealogy claims that John² Emery married Mary² Webster, Oct. 2, 1648. We have accounted for the fact that the date of the original Emery-Webster marriage record became, successively, Oct. 29, Oct. 2, and, finally Oct. ——. It seems evident that the compiler of the Emery Genealogy, or a member of the Emery Genealogical Committee, thought that he had found another Emery-Webster marriage and that it referred to John² Emery. For some unknown reason the year 1648 was added.

It should now be perfectly clear that only one early Emery-Webster marriage was recorded, of which we have the original record, in part, and the original record as copied by Henry Short, with his additions.

There is, then, no authentic record that John² Emery married Mary Webster, Oct. 2, 1648, the supposed marriage record being a modern record, based on a misinterpretation of the original records. We have noted the fact that Mary^2 Webster is not mentioned in her mother's will. Unless there is evidence from other sources of information that John^2 Emery married his step-sister, this claim must be definitely and, permanently abandoned.

Perhaps some one, in spite of the evidence here given, may try to insist that the marriage, Oct. 29, 1650, was, in reality, the marriage of John^2 Emery and Mary^2 Webster and that Henry Short was in error in assigning the record to widower John^1 Emery and widow Mary Webster. The record does not apply to the young couple as they were married by Oct. 10, 1650, when they deposed in a court case (Essex County Court Records, 1-220). Moreover, if there were two early Emery-Webster marriages, say between 1647 and 1650, inclusive, Henry Short would have found it necessary to make inquiry as to which marriage the original Newbury record referred. We have presented conclusive evidence that he did not make any inquiry. As he undoubtedly knew the maiden name of John^2 Emery's wife, the fact that he made no inquiry proves that her maiden name was not Webster.

The Emery Genealogy states that "Mary," first wife of John Emery, died in Newbury, April, 1649. This record does not appear in Newbury vital records. We have seen evidence that John^1 Emery's second wife had a daughter Ebenezer, born, according to Newbury records, Sept. 14, or 16, 1648. If Ebenezer was born in Sept. 1648, the date of the first wife's death is incorrect. No evidence in early records has been found that her baptismal name was Mary.

Capt. Walter Goodwin Davis in his account of The Ancestry of Sarah Miller (page 23), suggests that John^1 Emery may have married Alice Grantam, June 26, 1620, at Whiteparish, Wiltshire, England. Whiteparish is about eight miles from Romsey, Hampshire, England, where John^1 Emery resided before he came to New England. He had a daughter Alice, who may have been his oldest child, and if so, born about 1622. There is no record of her baptism at Romsey. Perhaps her mother went to her old home in Whiteparish before her first child was born and had her child baptized there.

In Capt. Davis's publication, above mentioned, he gives the baptism of John Emery, the immigrant, March 29, 1599,* and Anthony, his brother, Aug. 29, 1601. Their father's name was John. Possibly John, the father, may have been a son of John Emerye and Alce Banet, who were married May 10, 1565, at St. Bartholomew, Hyde, Winchester, Hampshire, England. (Phillimore's Hampshire Parish Registers, Marriages, 16-136.) Winchester is a few miles northeast of Romsey. One John Emery, possibly the groom of 1565, was buried June 16, 1594, at Romsey. The records of St. Bartholomew, Hyde, Winchester, have not been searched for Emery baptisms and burials, as the present time is unfavorable for genealogical investigations in England, due to war conditions.

Persons interested in the history of the John^1 Emery branch of the family will find much better accounts of the early history in the publications mentioned below than in the Emery Genealogy:

(2) The Pillsbury Ancestry, by Mary Lovering Holman.

* The date Nov. 29, 1599, which has also appeared in print, is erroneous.

A NOTE ON THE OSGOOD FAMILY OF HAMPSHIRE, WILTSHIRE AND NEW ENGLAND

By John Insley Coddington, A.M., of Olivet, Michigan.

The late Osgood Field wrote "A Contribution to the History of the Family of Osgood," printed in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, vol. 20 (1866), pp. 22-28. His observations on the English origins of the New England Osgoods were elaborated by Eben Putnam in the Genealogy of the Descendants of John, Christopher and William Osgood (Salem, Mass., 1894), pp. 1-5. The views of these two men were supported by Henry F. Waters, who, in his Genealogical Gleanings in England, vol. 1, p. 518, gave an abstract of the will of William Spencer of Cheriton, which contained much information relative to the Osgoods. Mrs. Mary Lovering Holman has covered the same ground with lucid clarity in The Pillsbury Ancestry, pp. 1067-1072.

All these eminent genealogists agree about John Osgood, yeoman, who was born (according to his own statement in his will) on 23 July 1595, and who settled at Newbury, Mass., in 1638, was one of the original settlers of Hampton, N. H., and later removed to Andover, Mass., where he died in 1651. They agree that he came from Wherwell, co. Wilts, and presumably he was born in that parish. It seems that John Osgood was a son of Robert Osgood, yeoman, of Cottingworth in the parish of Wherwell, whose will was dated 25 Aug. 1630, and proved in the Consistory Court at Winchester 17 Nov. 1630. Robert Osgood of Cottingworth in Wherwell was, according to Osgood Field, a son of Peter Osgood of the neighboring parish of Over [or Upper] Wallop, co. Hants, who was buried at Over Wallop 26 Jan. 1585/6. That must also have been the day of his death, since Peter Osgood's will was signed that same day, 26 Jan. 1585/6, and was proved in the Consistory Court at Winchester 21 Feb. 1585/6. In this will, Peter Osgood named a wife Eliza-

NEHG Register 89-376 EMERY

Anne Lepak #295

EMERY RECORDS FROM THE PARISH REGISTERS OF ROMSEY, ENGLAND.—John and Anthony Emery, both carpenters, from Romsey, co. Hants, England, embarked on the James at Southampton in 1635 for New England. The former settled at Newbury, Mass., and the latter at Kittery, Maine. In January 1935 Miss Marian K. Dale, a former assistant of Miss Lilian J. Redstone and now engaged in independent genealogical research, examined the parish registers of Romsey, with the object of obtaining all entries at the proper period under the name Emery and its variants. Miss Dale states that the vicar of Romsey said to her: "Almost everybody who has searched this register has been looking for Emerys." It seems a pity that this work should be constantly repeated, and therefore the results of Miss Dale's search are set forth below. The Romsey registers begin with the year 1569, and were examined for all entries until 1635 and for burials until 1640.

1594, 16 June	John Emery buried.
1597, 24 October	Thomas Emery and Thomasine Carter married.
1599, 29 November	John son of John Emery baptized.
1601, 29 August	Anthony son of John Emery baptized.
1601, 7 September	Ellin' Emery baptized.
1604, 6 October	Hugh son of John Emerye baptized.
1610, 14 September	Margery Emory buried.
1624, 7 November	Helena daughter of John Emmorie baptized.
1626, 1 November	Anne Emry buried.
1627, 25 June	John Emry buried.
1628, 3 February	John son of John Emry baptized [1628/9].
1631, 18 September	James son of Anthony Emry baptized.
1632, 18 March	Anne daughter of John Emry baptized [1632/3].

As the registers contain no Emery entries between 1569 and 1594, it seems certain that this family came to Romsey from some other parish at about the latter date. Miss Dale also examined Emery wills and administrations (1502–1652) in the various probate registries for Hampshire at Winchester and found nothing which related to this Emery family of Romsey. A copy of a Hampshire subsidy roll (1620–1628), in the office of Alfred Trego Butler, Windsor Herald, at the College of Arms, lists four Emerys in the parishes of North Baddesley, Bisterne, Upham, and Middleton and Forton, but none in Romsey. Miss Dale also examined the Romsey portion of the Hampshire subsidies of 36 Elizabeth (174/418) and 40 Elizabeth (174/448), Rentals and Surveys, 33 Elizabeth (D. L. Misc., BR 116), and Court Rolls for Romsey, 3, 31, 35, 40 Elizabeth (Portf., 201/41, 42, 43, 46), all in the Public Record Office, London, and the Account Rolls of the Manor of Romsey, 1538–1540 (Harleian Rolls I, 13, fo. 22, and I, 14), in the British Museum, and found no reference to Emery.

From the entries in the registers it appears that the emigrants were the brothers John and Anthony Emery, baptized in 1599 and 1601 respectively, sons of John Emery. Their father was possibly the John Emery who was buried in 1627. Both brothers married before coming to New England. James, son of Anthony Emery, baptized in 1631, was with his father at Kittery. Of the children of John Emery, the emigrant, Helena, baptized in 1624, was doubtless the daughter Eleanor, who married John Bayley of Newbury about 1640, John, baptized in 1628/9, was with his father in Newbury, and Anne, baptized in 1632/3, married at Newbury, 25 Nov. 1648, James Ordway.

The Emery Line

JOHN^{1} EMERY, said to have been baptised in Romsey, Hampshire, Eng., 29 Sept. 1598, son of John and Agnes Emery, died in Newbury, Mass., 3 Nov. 1683. He married first in England, a wife whose name is said to have been MARY. He married secondly in Essex County, Mass., about 1647, MARY (SHATSWELL) WEBSTER, born about 1610, died in Newbury, 28 Apr. 1694, sister of Theophilus and John Shatswell, and widow of John Webster.

John Emery sailed from Southampton, England, with his brother Anthony in the James of London, 3 Apr. 1635. He was made a freeman, 2 July 1641. He settled at Newbury where he was a selectman, fence viewer, and served on the trial and grand juries. In 1655, he was Constable of the town and later clerk of the market. He was a carpenter by trade.

In 1662, John Emery and his wife, Mary, sued James Merrick for detaining and keeping Israel Webster, son of said Mary Emery, without the consent of either John or Mary or any other person who had oversight of him.

In a case in the year, 1663, "Barbri Elsly deposed that she heard Goodi Emery say that her daughter Elen did belie her own father and that she could not trust her about anything."

Elignor Baily & Judith March, midwives of Newbury, deposed in Court in 1670, as to the character of Ann Chase. In another case in 1669, James Ordway, Abraham Merrill, John Bayley and John Emery deposed together. John Emery, Sr., was aged seventy years in 1669. John Emery aged forty-two and John Webster aged thirty-eight, swore in Court, in Mar. 1669–70, "that our father Emery hath Injoyed and made use of this meadow as his owne nineteen years the last July or mowing seson."

John Emery, Sr., was aged seventy-three in 1671. In Newbury, in 1677, when the oath of allegiance was taken by the inhabitants, the person taking it listed the ages of all those who subscribed. The ones who are identified with this ancestry were, John Emery, Sr., aged 80; John Emery, Jr., aged 51; Jonathan Emery, ae 27; John Emery [3d], aged 22; Israel Webster, aged 35; Abraham Merrill, aged 41; James Ordoway, aged 60, and John Bayley, aged 65.

The land records tell much of the activities of John Emery.

"Whereas the General Court gave liberty to John Emery . . . to sell such lands as was security for the children of John Webster for their Severall portions . . . therefore wittnesseth that Jn^{o} Emery and Mary his wife of Newbury . . . Carpenter for . . . thirty five pounds . . . sell unto Thomas Boreman of Ipswich . . . all . . . theire land bought of John Andrewes," 7 Oct. 1652. (Ipswich Deeds, 1: 114.)

"John Emery of Newbury . . . for . . . Twenty pounds . . . have . . . sold unto Thomas Burnam of Ipswich all that his Tenn acre Lott (w^c was Somtymes John Websters) . . . in Ipswich," 13 Jan. 1653, Signed also by Mary Emery, her mark. Wit: Richard Shatswell. (ibid., 5: 11.)

"I John Emerye of Newbury . . . carpenter . . . for three pounds five Shillings . . . have sould unto William Boynton of Rowley one freehould . . . that was John Webster's of Ipswich" . . . 19 May 1655. Signed also by Mary Emery, her mark. (ibid., 2: 228.)

In 1672, John Emery exchanged a piece of salt marsh with Nathaniell Merrill.

"I John Emry Sen^r of Newbury . . . carpenter . . . in consideration of my harty afection which I beare to my son Jonathan Emry . . . confirme unto the sayd Jonathan my son of Newbury . . . the one halfe of my . . . land in Nubury," 11 July 1675. Signed also by "Mary Emry Sen," by mark, witnessed by Abraham Merrill. (ibid., 4: 246.)

"wee John Emry sen^r and Jonathan Emry of Newbury . . . with the free and voluntary consent of both our wives . . . in consideration of five pounds . . . confirme unto Richard Woolsworth of Newbury . . . weaver . . . land . . . in Nubery," 7 Jan. 1678. Signed, John Emry Sen, Mary Emry, Jonathan Emry, Mary Emry, Jun. (ibid., 4: 247.)

"The Deposition of John Emery Sen^r and Mary his wife certifieth on oath that in the yeare one thousand 1653 that then John Webster did marry Ann Batt the Daughter of Nicholas Batt . . . and . . . Nicholas . . . did then promise to give to the s^d John Webster . . . his house . . . and all his lands . . . after his and his wifes decease," 26 May 1678. John Emery Jr., aged fifty, deposed to the same and stated that the wedding took place in "ffather Emyres house." John Webster the grandson of Batt, aged twenty-two, spoke of his gradfather Batt. (ibid., 4: 160.) See also Old Norfolk Deeds, 3: 32; Ipswich Deeds, 3: 308, 309.

In 1674, Rebecca, widow of Isaac Browne, speaks of her uncle John Emery.

From the very cordial relations between John Emery and his stepsons and daughters, it is evident that he was kind to the children of John Webster. He does not remember them in his will, but he does not mention his own children, by name. He makes the husband of one of his step-daughters an overseer, with his eldest son John Emery, and if any of them die then his grandson Joseph Bayley is to serve.

"This is the last will and testament of me John Emry Seneor of newberry . . . I give . . . as followeth which is according to my will and full Intent in this eighty third yeare of my age first I the said John Emry Doe Give unto my Daughter Ebenezer Hoag one acre and half of upland at the west end of my homelot joyneing to that parcel of land which I formerly gave her at ye said west end of my land west the Common The which land to gether with this acre and half of land now mentioned I doe give unto my said Daughter Ebenezer . . .

Item I the said John Emry doe give . . . unto my sone Jonathan Emry and to his posterity forever All my lands in newberry . . . together with my houseing . . . that the said Jonathan shall manadge to manure that one half of the said land both upland and meadow for the use and proper behoof of the said Emry and my wife his mother so long as we both or either of us shall live, That is to say he shall at his own charge till my upland according to our order we finding seed of such sort as we shall see cause, And also laye it in the barn or house . . . And after it is harvested we are to take the care of it for threshing and what else is to be done to it, also to Cut one half of the meadows and make and bring home the hay thereof for me and my wife. . . . And also the said Jonathan is to pay fifty pound in good and marchantable Corn and neat Cattle under eight yeare old to be payd at the dwelling house of me the said Emry according to my order by the said Jonathan or his heires in five years after my decease and the decease of my wife That is ten pound by the yeare The which fifty pounds together with my Chattels & moveables I do order and Dispose of as followeth My will and Intent is That mary my wife shall have ten pound of the said estate to dispose of at her decease to whom she pleaseth. And my grandchild Mary Emerson I doe also give unto her ten pounds which shall be p^d to her out of the said estate. And my will is that my debts shall be all payd out of my stock and goods And that fifty pounds before expressed And then my will and Intent is that what is left of my said estate shall be equally Divided between my six children and said Mary Emerson. I doe alsoe appoynt my sons John Emry and abram Merrell to be overseers of this My will. And in case any of them dye before all the particulars therein mentioned be performed Then I appoynt Joseph bayle in his roome. As witnes my hand May 11th 1680; John Emry Sen^r"

Proved 27 Nov. 1683. The inventory amounted to £263.

Jonathan Emery with Stephen Emery as surety was appointed administrator on the remaining unadministered part of the estate of John Emery who "deceased in the year 1683," 8 June 1698. He declined to serve and John Emery, grandson to the deceased, was appointed. (Essex Co. Probate, 8976, vol. 320, p. 100.)

It seems evident that John Emery had some agreement with the children of his first wife since he leaves the major part of his estate to the children by his second wife, Mary (Shatswell) Webster. He makes the residue divisible among his six children and Mary Emerson, his grandchild. Just who this Mary Emerson was has not been proven. It seems probable that she was the daughter of a daughter of John Emery by his first wife, but it is possible that she was a daughter of a child of John and his second wife. Mary, in her almost illegible will, gives to either Hanah or Marah Emerson twenty shillings, and to Abigail Merrill also twenty shillings (See Webster Line). From the arrangement it would seem that both the ——— Emerson and Abigail Merrill were sisters and daughters of Mary. Also the capital letter at the beginning of the first name is not made like the other "M's" in the will and could easily be an "H." As she had a daughter Hannah Emerson it seems evident that it was she who was meant by Mary in her will and not the grandchild Mary Emerson mentioned by John Emery in his will. Mary had a grandchild Mary Emerson, daughter of Hannah, but she married nearly ten years before Mary made her will. It seems hardly possible that John would have made this Mary Emerson, who was unmarried when he made his will, an equal heir with his own children although there might have been some reason for his so doing. John Emery's known children at the time of his making his will were, Elinor, Alice, John, Anne, Ebenezer, and Jonathan, and the grandchild Mary was to share equally in the division of the property. It is possible that the grandchild Mary may have been the wife of Joseph Emerson, son of Rev. Joseph and Elizabeth (Woodmansey) Emerson, who had before 1677, a wife Mary, surname unknown.

iii. ALICE, b. prob. abt. 1625, living 1680; m. abt. 1643, JOHN CHATER.*
iv. JOHN, b. 1627, deposed aged 51 in 1677, aged 50 in 1676, aged 42 in 1669, d. abt. 1693; m. 29 Oct. 1650, Newbury, MARY WEBSTER.†

vi. EBENEZER (daughter), b. 16 Sept. 1648, Newbury; m. 21 Apr. 1669, JOHN HOAG.
vii. JONATHAN, b. 13 May 1652, d. 29 Sept. 1723; m. 29 Nov. 1676, MARY WOODMAN.

ANNE^{2} EMERY (John^{1}), born in England about 1631, died in Newbury, Mass., 31 Mar. 1687, aged fifty-six years. She married JAMES ORDWAY. See the Ordway Line.

* In 1668, John Chater deposed in Court, aged about forty, according to the printed records of Essex County Court Files, 4: 125. He must have been older and was probably fifty. A John Chater was listed among those who were to sail for the Barbadoes in the Expedition from London in Nov. 1635. He was aged seventeen which makes him born in 1618. He is supposed to be John Chater who married Alice Emery. If so, he was aged fifty in 1668. If he were born in 1628 and aged forty in 1668 he was only fifteen when he married which hardly seems possible. The fact that he married Alice, daughter of John Emery, is proven by items in the Essex Court Files and in the Genealogical Dictionary of Maine and New Hampshire, by Libby.

† The marriage record in Newbury of John Emery and Mary Webster is given as above and in a town copy, made by the clerk Henry Short in 1600, to this entry was added by him, after her name, "wid. John of Ipswich". This is wrong because court records show that John Emery, Sen., married the widow Mary Webster by 1647. The town clerk was in error in making this addition which has caused some people to question the marriage of John Emery Jr., to any Mary Webster. It seems plain however that the error is in that addition made from memory of statements made, and that the marriage date is correct as given in the original records but belongs to John Emery, Jr., and Mary^{2} Webster.
